Take First Steps On City Slum Clearance

OFFICIALS ACT TO GET SHARE OF U. S. FUNDS

Confer Today With Federal Housing Member on 5-Man Group to Make Survey.

HEAR OUTLINE OF PLANS

$65,000,000 Allocated For State to Eliminate Fire Hazards, Provide Work.

First steps towards a slum clearance program in Mansfield were taken today by city and county officials as they prepared to seek a share of the federal government's $65,000,000 allocation to Ohio for this purpose.

Officials met at the courthouse this afternoon with H. J. Halper, Akron, member of the federal housing commission for Ohio who was to outline a proposed project for Richland county.

Submits Proposal.

Mayor Claude M. Hunter, who had taken the program under advisement 10 days ago, said Halper had called to submit the proposal to city and county officials in the hopes that the city might share in the appropriation made to the state.

The proposal calls for the appointment of a five-man committee to make a survey of housing conditions here and determine the need of a slum clearance program.

In the preliminary survey the committee would be required to show where the clearance program would eliminate fire hazards and poor sanitation conditions and to what extent it would provide employment for men on relief rolls in the county.

Would Set Up Board.

Before requesting aprpoval of federal expenditures, the committee would have to present the slum clearance plan to the Federal Housing commission in Columbus for authority to set up a permanent local board.

If approved by the commission, a five-man Metropolitan Housing authority will be set up here before carrying the request to officials in Washington for the necessary finances.

Two members of the housing authority would be appointed by the mayor, one by Probate Judge C. J. Anderson, one by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston and one by the county commissioners.

Should the project be approved by both state and federal authorities, the designated areas to be cleared would be condemned and construction started at once.

Place Wreaths On Graves of 294 Who Died In Disaster

NEW LONDON, Tex.—(U.P.)—One year ago today an explosion wrecked the New London school.

Two hundred and ninety-four children and teachers were killed.

Today, in commemoration of the disaster, the school buildings that escaped the blast were deserted. Instead of attending classes, the children who survived the tragedy laid wreaths on the graves of their former classmates.

"It was definitely realized that a memorial service would only make it more difficult for the parents," Rev. R. L. Jackson, Methodist minister who preached the funerals of scores of the victims, explained.

"Our real memorials will be in a greater school, a finer community, more sacred homes and better churches."

Already the greater school is developing. A new, $300,000 building is going up to replace the one destroyed.

In it, the school trustees are taking no chances on another explosion.

STUDY PAY CUTS

Railroads Seek to Absorb Part of Losses at Session Today.

CHICAGO —(INS)— Payroll cuts to offset low revenues were reported to be in the balance at a meeting of the association of American Railroads here today.

Directors of the association of 140 Class 1 roads which met behind closed doors refused to discuss the exact program for the meeting but it was said unofficially that the principal business would concern possible payroll savings.

Vote Near On Akron Tire 'Ultimatum'

Goodrich Threat to Curb Operations Writes New History for Labor.

(By International News Service)

AKRON—A new chapter in the history of labor relations is being written in this rubber capital of the world.

The showdown will come Sunday, when the rank and file of United Rubber Workers' union members at the B. F. Goodrich company vote on a company proposal that is believed unique in the annals of industrial relations.

The Goodrich company, one of the big four in the tire industry, has offered its workers this proposal:

The company will spend several million dollars in modernizing and improving its facilities here in 1938, provided the workers voluntarily agree to a reduction of from 10 to 20 cents an hour in wage rates.

If the "adjustment" is turned down, the company serves flat notice it will embark upon a decentralization program that will take 5,000 jobs from Akron.

Cites Competition.

As the basis for its proposal, Goodrich holds that it must have lower production costs in Akron if it is to compete with the two other major firms here—Goodyear and Firestone The other member of the "big four," the United States Tire & Rubber, is not located in Akron.

The negotiating committee of the union, a strong CIO affiliate, has recommended acceptance of the proposal.

Wages here are admittedly high Goodrich proposes a cut for male workers from the present rate of $1.10 to $1.15 an hour to an average of 90 to 95 cents an hour, and a reduction for female workers from the present average of 70 to 75 cents an hour, to 60 to 65 cents an hour.

The company says that unless its proposal is accepted, the company will immediately expand its mechanical goods plant at Cadillac, Mich., and its tire plant at Oaks, Pa., and will establish another large plant somewhere outside of Akron.

Newspapers here have recommended editorially the acceptance of the proposal. Civic associations likewise have urged that the plan be accepted.

GOES TO COURT

Ferguson Acts to Force Access to Stinchcomb's Records.

COLUMBUS—(UP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today asked common pleas court for an injunction to prevent Gaylord R. "Pete" Stinchcomb from interfering with inspection of records of Franklin Warehouses, Inc.

The injunction was sought as a test case of the auditor's authority to demand records. The petition stated Ferguson had been denied access to the warehouse records.

Stinchcomb's firm, which held the state liquor warehousing contract, figured in the recent senate graft investigation.

The motion filed by Ferguson will be heard by Judge John R. King, next Friday.

2 DIE AS NAVY PLANE DIVES

Craft Plunges to Earth as Pilot Loses Control.

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—(INS)—Failure to pull out of a power dive was given today as the cause of a naval plane crash which killed two aviators.

The victims were Herbert Younkman, cadet, of Jersey City, N. J., and Junius D. Murry, machinist mate, of Puyallup, Wash.

The men were on a routine practice flight when the plane suddenly plunged to earth and burst into flames.

$150,000 STILL DUE ON TAX BILL

Collection Period Will Close Monday; Kolb Warns There Won't Be Extension.

With real estate tax collection deadline only three days away, Richland county property owners still owed $150,000 on the current tax bill today. Payments to date totaled $448,000, while the half-year charge is approximately $600,000.

Collections yesterday at the office of County Treasurer John E. Kolb at the courthouse climbed to $25,000, boosting payments for the week to $77,000.

Kolb warned again today that there would be no extension of the collection period and that the customary penalty of 10 per cent would be assessed after Monday.

With 1,900 personal tax accounts paid, collections under that classification mounted to $26,000, less than for the same period last year, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said.

Auditor's clerks have been stationed in the courthouse lobby to assist taxpayers in filling out their personal tax blanks, and Wolfe said the blanks will be mailed anyplace in the county to property owners who prefer to make out their own reports.

Personal levies are payable until April 1 without penalty.

STEAMER HIT

BACK IN SCHOOL

Pupils Return After Bus Drivers, Janitors Come to Terms.

IRONTON — (U.P.) — Decateur township school children returned to classes today at the end of a strike by school bus drivers and janitors.

The employes walked out when the township board of education attempted to prorate funds on hand which were less than the normal salary budget. The drivers and janitors agreed to await receipt of funds to meet their salary claims.

PAYS WITH LIFE

Slayer Who Killed to Amuse Sweetheart Dies In Chair.

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. —(AP)—Lester Brockelhurst, one-time Mormon Sunday school teacher who turned killer to amuse and entertain his sweetheart while they hitch-hiked about the country, died in the electric chair at Arkansas state prison at dawn today.

The switch was thrown at 6:37 a. m., and Brockelhurst was pronounced dead at 6:40.

Brockelhurst, pale and nervous, entered the death chamber at 6:15 and made a lengthy speech to the more than 30 witnesses present.

"You know I am going to a great place after three months of hell which has caused my parents much grief," he said.

"Crime does not pay, take it from one who knows."

INDICTS TRAM COMPANY

NEW YORK—(INS)—A street car company was under indictment today on the charge that its cars made too much noise along its right of way. The indictment charged the Brooklyn and Queens Transit corporation with "maintaining a nuisance."

ONDOV SHOWS STEADY GAIN

Although his view of the world has been confined to the floor of his hospital room for two days, Michael Ondov, 24-year-old Wittenberg divinity school student, who underwent a delicate spinal operation Wednesday at General hospital, as in excellent spirits today and his general conditon was "good," according to hospital attendants.

Forced to lie on his stomach since the operation Ondov has been more than patient with his restricted p tion and managed to get considerable rest during the night. His position was to be changed late today to a more comfortable one.

Hundreds of telephone calls have been received at the hospital inquiring as to his condition and expressing the interest in his case.

Although Dr. H. E. LeFever, brain and spinal specialist of Columbus who performed the operation on Ondov Wednesday at General hospital, said that it would be probably three or four weeks before complete life and feeling return to his limbs and the lower part of his body, Ondov was sure that there was a "different" feeling there already.

He has been unable to feel anything in the lower half of his body since Nov. 5, when a vertabrae was shattered in an auto accident near Hayesville.

The campaign to raise funds to finance the operation and expenses during his hospitalization was being continued today with Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, treasurer of the fund, sending 100 letters to interested individuals and churches explaining the need for funds. More than $500 has been raised to date.

VOIDS WORK LAW

Pennsy County Court Holds 44-Hour Week Unconstitutional.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (U.P.) — Pennsylvania's 44-hour work week law, affecting nearly 3,000,000 workers, was declared unconstitutional today by the Dauphin county court.

Judge W. C. Sheely ruled the maximum hours law void in a brief decree in order that an appeal might be taken by the state to the supreme court by Monday.

RECLUSE WORTH $100,000

NEW YORK—(INS)—Mrs. Mary J O'Leary, 70-year-old recluse found dead in the three-story house she occupied alone, was worth at least $100,000 police estimated today.

Galion Girl and Boy Crooner First Winners In Talent Hunt

An attractive girl in a glorified western costume and a boy crooner were the winers last night in the first elimination contest of the talent quest that is being sponsored by NBC, Warner Brothers and The News-Journal, at the Ohio theater.

Six acts were presented, all of them "singles" and singers. Miss Leona Mauer, Grove avenue, Galion, walked away with first place by reason of the greatest amount of applause, which will be the deciding factor throughout the talent quest. Winner among the male contestants was James Kondos, 154 Seventh avenue.

Miss Mauer appeared in a white satin costume with white kid boots and sombrero hat, singing "My Little Buckaroo," and playing her own accompaniment with a guitar.

Kondos is a crooner in the vogue established by Bing Crosby.

Other contestants who appeared last night were William Robinson, Lexington, guitar and singing; Sheldon Perrine, 132 Woodland avenue, banjo and singing; Helen DeVoe, Greenwich, singing, and Lloyd Wittmer, 33½ Temple court, singing.

Next Tuesday's contestants will be given a private audition at 7 p m. at the theater just before their stage appearance.

The will be three elimination contests before the final winners are selected. The final state winners get a free trip to New York City and radio and screen tests.

STATE FUNDS LOOM AS CITY TALKS RELIEF

Davey Says He Will Call Back Legislature to Forestall Crisis In Cities.

LOOKS FOR NEW TAX PLAN

Council Confers Tonight In Caucus on Possibilities of Issuing Bonds.

The possibility that additional relief funds might be made available for the state loomed today as city council prepared for a special caucus meeting tonight to consider ways of raising funds to finance the relief burden for the balance of the year.

At Cleveland last night Gov. Martin L. Davey, after conferring with city officials there on a program for relief, announced that he would call a special session of the legislature to make available additional funds to forestall any relief crisis which threatens to develop there in April.

Confers With Cities.

While Mansfield officials pondered over some means of raising an approximate $50,000 that will be necessary to carry the relief load for the balance of the year, the governor today planned for conferences with municipal officials throughout the state on various plans of local and state taxation to meet the approaching crisis.

"It was agreed at last night's session that the state would work with local officials in developing legislation to permit local authorities to impose immediate taxes for relief, not to be assessed against real estate, and also legislation to impose state taxes to bear some share of the relief load on a state-wide basis," the governor said.

The program would cover the balance of the year. It is hoped to put it into effect in time to avoid the breakdown of relief, now impending in April.

Seek Job Insurance Funds.

"Every effort also will be made to secure the necessary federal and state amendments to release

6 HURT IN CRASH

Shelby War Veteran Seriously Injured West of City.

Ray Bloom, 45, Shelby World war veteran, was critically injured and five other persons suffered cuts and bruises at 12:30 a. m. today when two automobiles collided on route 30-N seven miles west of Mansfield.

Bloom, driver of one of the cars, suffered a skull fracture and was taken to Memorial hospital, Shelby, where his condition was described as "serious" today.

Others injured in the crash were Hugh Palmer, of Pittsburgh, Pa., driver of the other car; Fred Schmied, Pittsburgh, and Harry L. Leonard, Cannonsburg, Pa., both of whom were riding with Palmer, and V. V. Tinson and Miss Lydia Kleinknecht, passengers in Bloom's car. They were treated by a Shelby physician. None was believed seriously hurt.

Deputy Sheriff C. C. Gongwer said Bloom drove onto route 30 from a side road and his car was struck by one driven by Palmer. Palmer was en route to Chicago.

PLOT SMASHED

Rio Police Break Up Plan to Assassinate President.

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Central police headquarters announced today that a Fascist plot to assassinate President Getulio Vargas and for revolts in several provinces had been smashed.

Three thousand daggers bearing Swastika emblems were found in a raid on the home of Plinio Salgada, leader of the once-powerful Fascistic integralist party, police said.

FRANCE, RUSSIA BRING PRESSURE TO AVERT CLASH

Warn Glowering Small Nations Their Quarrel May Pave Way For New German Aggression, Perhaps Light Torch of War.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(AP)—A source close to the chancellery said today that German's opposition to the threat of Polish military action in Lithuania had been withdrawn in return for Polish acquiescence in a possible German annexation of the free city of Danzig.

(By Associated Press)

PARIS—France and Russia agreed today to bring simultaneous pressure to bear on Poland and Lithuania for peaceful settlement of their friction, menacing the peace of Europe.

Official quarters disclosed France would attempt immediately to induce Poland, which has issued an ultimatum to Lithuania, to moderate its stand.

Russia was to use her influence to persuade Lithuania to concede enough to ease the tension.

Poland is an ally of France. Lithuania and Russia are bound by a non-aggression treaty.

France, a spokesman said, will point out to Poland that invasion of Lithuania could pave the way for Germans to occupy Memel and add fuel to the threatening conflagration in Europe. Memel is a German city ceded to Lithuania when that country was created after the World war.

The Polish government sent to Lithuania last night a strongly worded note demanding a settlement of differences between the two governments.

The note, an ultimatum in character, demanded an answer by 9 p. m. Saturday, (3 p. m., EST).

Desires Settlement.

(The Lithuanian minister in Paris indicated his government's desire to reach some settlement in a communication to the Polish minister, but it was not apparent whether the communication preceded or followed the ultimatum.)

If it is not answered, or if it is answered unsatisfactorily, private but reliable Polish informants said, there was a likelihood that Poland would resort to arms.

From Berlin came the report that Germany was ready to march into Lithuanian Memel, the moment Poland marches into Lithuania.

Germany lost Memel when the Lithuanian Republic was created after the World war, and it is part of war-lost territory which Germany wants back. The suddenly developing Polish crisis has brought Memel into the limelight.

DNB (official Germany agency) in a Warsaw dispatch said it had been announced officially that Poland had taken precautionary military measures to meet the Lithuanian situation.

Started by Border Clash.

Envoys of Estonia and Latvia made sharp representations at Kaunas, Lithuanian capital, it was reported, urging the Lithuanian government to normalize relations with Poland.

The present crisis arose over a border clash in which a Polish border guard was killed, but ill feeling dates from the Polish seizure of Wilno, once Lithuania's capital, in 1920.

During the last three days more than 100 demonstrations against Lithuania have been held in Polish towns.

The Polish foreign office itself would not discuss contents of the demands made upon the little neighbor country but the newspaper Weiczor Warsawski said they dealt with six points:

1. Immediate re-establishment of diplomatic relations, non-existent for 17 years.
2. Resumption of railway and postal communications.
3. Withdrawal of Lithuanian constitutional claims to Wilno as Lithuania's capital.
4. An agreement on treatment

'Surrender or Die,' Notes Tell Barcelona In New Air Raids

BARCELONA — (UP) — Nationalist planes carried on their terroristic bombing of this capital of loyalist Spain for the third consecutive day today, and, for the first time, accompanied their deadly explosives with demands for immediate surrender.

Todays bombings were in relays as had been those of Thursday and Wednesday, and they added to the frightful carnage and intensified the panic and passion. Thursday, the planes dropped their last loads at 10:15 p. m., and today they dropped their first at 1:20 a. m. This was followed by raids at 4 a. m., 7 a. m., and 9:35 a. m.

One of the planes showered the city with leaflets which read:

"Surrender or perish."

In the first four raids today, at least 50 buildings were destroyed or partially wrecked. Approximately 50 were added to the death toll, which had reached approximately 1,000, with three times that number wounded. Most of the dead and wounded were civilians.

The new bombings also intensified an exodus of terrified citizens to the comparative safety of the mountains which close Barcelona in on the sea. The city was like a dead city. Offices, public buildings, stores, cafes, all were closed, and all activity was concentrated on caring for the dead and wounded.

The bombers yesterday, their number varying for each raid, flew so high that their presence was not known until their bombs dropped.

World Waiting Hitler's Major Speech Before Reich Today

BERLIN—(UP)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler addresses the reichstag tonight and extensive preparations to insure every German hearing him, indicated that it would be of major importance. It was believed that Hitler would speak for approximately two hours, from 8 to 10, (2 p. m. to 4 p. m., EST).

Well informed persons believed that his address would touch only briefly, if at all, on Germany's future foreign policy—the question in which all the world is interested—but would be devoted almost entirely to Austria. He was expected to review the events leading to the union of Germany and Austria last week and explain measures to be adopted toward Austria in the future.

Practically the entire population of Germany, including Austria, will be gathered around loud speakers in homes, on street corners, in cafes, factories, and offices, when der fuehrer mounts the rostrum in the Kroll opera house where the reichstag meets.

As has been the custom for Hitler's momentous speeches to the reichstag in the past, employes of big concerns will assemble in offices and factory to hear the address together. This was taken as evidence of its importance.

It was learned on good authority that the present reichstag would be dissolved after tonight's session and that an election for a new reichstag would be held simultaneously with the plebiscite in Austria April 10.

It was expected that 60 to 65

Murphy's Men on Sidelines As State Tourney Continues

Newark, Upper Arlington Appear to Be Class of State Eliminations.

By TOMMY DEVINE
(UP Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Two teams that capitalize on speed today became favorites to win the class "A" and "B" championships in the 30th annual state scholastic basketball tournament.

As the pick of the schoolboy quintets moved into the second round, Newark and Columbus Upper Arlington stepped forward from the field of 16 teams as the choices for the titles.

Newark, winner of the "A" cage crown in 1936, and Columbus Upper Arlington, the defending "B" titlist, turned in the outstanding performances of yesterday's 10 hour marathon grind.

Newark gave the finest exhibition of any of the large division teams as it humbled a clever Youngstown East team 50 to 37. Upper Arlington advanced with an easy 53 to 16 triumph over North Baltimore.

In today's headline encounters Newark clashes with Cincinnati Roger Bacon; and Upper Arlington is pitted against a formidable Canal Fulton five.

Roger Bacon moved up with a 31 to 24 victory over Mansfield; and Canal Fulton took a free-scoring contest from Wyoming, 54-40.

The caliber of teams entered in class "A" generally was disappointing. However, Newark justified every word of praise that had been uttered about it. The only requisite of a great team which Newark lacks is height. The Wildcats possess speed to burn, unlimited stamina and every player is a clever ball handler as well as a good shot.

In Bob Mercer, a 135-pound mite with a mop of brown hair that constantly is getting in his eyes, Newark had the finest individual star of the opening round.

Mercer is a dead shot from any place inside the foul line and an untiring ball hawk. The diminutive guard scored 19 points to lead all class "A" scorers.

Canton McKinley, the pre-tournament choice of many for the "A" crown, played erratic ball as it downed an underrated Toledo Woodward team 26 to 22.

In one of the weirdest games in tournament history, Hamilton advanced with a 17 to 12 triumph over Akron East.

One of the best played games of the inaugural round found Bridgeport edging Bowling Green 42 to 41.

Behind 41 to 37 with only 40 seconds to play remaining, Bridgeport snatched the victory when Bill Waters, substitute guard, dropped in a field goal, and Si Tafla came through with a basket. Tafla was fouled while shooting the tying basket and made good the free throw to give the eastern Ohio team the decision.

Hedges, which Wednesday annexed the Grade School league championship, ran into a snag yesterday at Senior high and dropped a 7 to 6 decision to the third-place Prospect outfit. The champions played without the services of the Moorhead boys. It was the club's fourth defeat.

While Prospect was knocking over the newly crowned club, West Fifth edged Western, 8 to 6, Bowman dumped Woodland, 16 to 6, Brinkerhoff, 9 to 6, and Carpenter defeated Bushnell, 11 to 5.

SEEK CONFERENCE BERTH

Three Universities Apply for Lone Vacancy in Buckeye Loop.

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Applicants for a lone vacancy in the powerful Buckeye Athletic conference narrowed down today to Xavier university of Cincinnati, Butler of Indianapolis, Ind., and Western State Teachers of Kalamazoo, Mich., and there was a chance that all might be admitted, boosting the loop to an eight-club circuit.

The conference executive committee debated for six hours last night before deciding that they should ask their athletic boards for advice.

Mansfield Riflemen Led by Barr in Match at Bowman Range.

The Mansfield Rifle club defeated the Strathbury club of Galion, 1382 to 1329, at the Bowman street range last night. Barr led Mansfield with a 282 and Turner was high for the losers with the same score.

Tygers Fail to Play Usual Game as They Bow to Roger Bacon, 31-24.

By OSCAR RUHL
News-Journal Sports Editor.

OHIO'S schoolboy basketball show continued in the Coliseum at Columbus today with the tamed Tygers of Mansfield high school on the sidelines.

Going down to defeat before Roger Bacon of Cincinnati, 31 to 24, Coach Russ Murphy's courtiers showed little semblance of their real selves in a first round game of the state cage classic.

Not "Jittery."

Although probably affected to some extent, the Tygers were not the victim of "jitters."

They merely encountered one of those "off-nights" that teams are susceptible to occasionally. It was Mansfield's misfortune to suffer one of those nights at this most inopportune time.

Shooting poorer than it did any other time this season, the Tygers' heralded defense also cracked as they bowed out of the first tournament in which Mansfield has been represented in 11 years in hurried order.

Added to their failure to hit the hoop with any degree of regularity was their inability to retrieve more than a minimum number of the important rebounds.

During the course of the season and the district tournament, Mansfield defeated stronger foes than Roger Bacon, but it did not indicate it last night.

Of course, it must be considered that Mansfield was weakened by the inability of Johnny Hallabrin to play throughout the game. Hallabrin left a sick bed to accompany the Tygers to Columbus, and although he did a fair job of ball playing while in there, he was unable to play the entire game.

However, the Tygers probably would have beaten the Cincinnati team handily had they played their usual game.

Tallies Twice From Field.

The ineffectiveness of the Mansfield offense is noted in the figures which reveal that it tallied only twice from the field in the first half.

The Tygers failed to show any improvement in the third period as they were held to one bucket.

Four of their seven baskets were registered in the fourth period after the Cincinnatians had virtually sewed up the victory.

Mansfield held the lead only three times. Elmer Dials, who, with Hallabrin, played his last game for the Tygers, opened the scoring with a free throw to give the Murphymen a 1 to 0 lead.

Later in the period, Jack Lyons parted the strings with Mansfield's first basket to put the Tygers up 5 to 3.

Mansfield's last lead was held early in the second quarter when Dials dented the mesh with a one-handed shot near the basket to put the Tygers on top by an 8 to 6 margin.

Bacon added seven points in hurried order to go ahead 13 to 8, and it never trailed again. The edge gained by Cincinnati in this quarter permitted it to coast through.

The score at the end of the first period was tied, 6-all, with the winning Brownies leading 16 to 10 at the intermission. Mansfield was behind 23 to 16 going into the third period.

The Tygers crept within three points of the lead midway in the fourth stanza, but then their defense suffered a momentary lapse to permit Bacon to score a pair of goals to definitely decide the issue.

Lyons Outstanding.

Lyons was particularly outstanding for the Tygers. In addition to sharing the scoring lead with Tommy Scott with seven points, Lyons held his own in other departments in a more consistent manner than any of his teammates.

Bacon was effective from the foul line, converting 11 out of 13 shots.

INMATES WIN, 40 TO 32

Moore Tallies 20 Points as Club Defeats Columbus Team.

The Inmates of the Mansfield Reformatory broke loose with a last-period rally to break a 25-all tie and go on to defeat the Skilken Construction company club of Columbus, 40 to 32, at the Reformatory last night. Moore led the Inmates with 20 points. Columbus led, 18 to 17, at the half.

Out-of-State Teams Top Moose Schedule

Illinois, New York and Michigan Bowlers to Roll at Meder Alleys Over Week-end.

COMPETITORS from distant states will dominate the Meder Recreation alleys when the Moose national bowling tournament is resumed this week-end.

Included among the teams will be entrants from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Chicago, Albany Park, N. Y., and Ohio.

Starting at noon Saturday, three teams from Detroit and one from Ann Arbor will bowl in the five-man event. Two shifts of minor events are scheduled at 3 and 5 p. m., with one Mansfield team sharing the 8 p. m. five-man shift with Hamilton and Steubenville, O., Rockford, Ill., and Erie, Pa.

Six From Chicago.

Six Chicago teams, two from Albany Park and one from Geneva, Pa., will bowl at 10 a. m. Sunday. Minor shifts are scheduled at noon and 2 p. m., with six Columbus and five Akron teams holding the stage at 4 p. m.

Present leaders are: Moore Recreation, Dearborn, Mich., 3023, five-man; Slagel-Hanson, Ft. Wayne, 1365, two-man; Slagel, Ft. Wayne, 813, individual; Slagel, Ft. Wayne, 2145, all-events.

All of the scores are determined on a handicap basis.

OPEN SERIES WITH WIN

All Stars Annex First Game of Intermediate League Play-off.

The All Stars defeated the Aces, 32 to 28, at the Friendly House last night in the opening tilt of the three-game play-off for the Intermediate league championship. The All Stars led 6 to 1 in the opening frame, 16 to 9 at halftime, and 29 to 20 going into the last period. The complete box score was not available.

HEMSLEY REJOINS TRIBE

NEW ORLEANS—(UP)— Rollie Hemsley, the Cleveland Indians' wayward catcher, today had made his first exhibition appearance with the tribe. Hemsley, who was disciplined last week by Manager Oscar Vitt for failure to observe training rules, caught five innings of a contest yesterday against the New Orleans Pelicans.

EXHIBITION RESULTS

May Free 100 Players In Cardinal Chain.

BELLEAIR, Fla.—(UP)—Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis today declined comment on reports he would declare more than 100 minor league players free agents as result of an investigation into the St. Louis Cardinals' far-flung chain farm system. "I have nothing to say on the matter at this time," Landis said.

Reports of a wholesale purge centered chiefly around an alleged agreement between the Cards and Cedar Rapids (Iowa) of the Three-Eye league in 1936 and 1937. St. Louis already backs the Decatur (Ill.) club in the same league.

HART WINS MAIN BOUT

Hollander Takes Thrilling Match In Straight Falls In Armory Ring.

FRANKIE HART, the "Flying Dutchman" of the mat, turned on his famous "windmill" last night to defeat Walter Stratton, Leetonia, O., in the feature bout of the Quality club wrestling program in the local Armory.

Hart and Stratton battled for almost 30 minutes on even terms before the Hollander clamped the Ohio farmer in his famous "flying windmill." Stratton had dressed down Hart to the point where it seemed certain the Ohioan would conquer. The superior strength of Stratton gave way, however, to the most brilliant exhibition of scientific wrestling to grace the local pad in months.

Stratton is one of the strongest lightheavyweights in the game, and Frankie Hart proved last night that he is without doubt one of the cleverest. Stratton worked desperately on the arms and legs of the Hollander with locks that would have made the ordinary grappler plead for mercy, but the courageous Hart always brought forth his brilliant understanding of the grips to break loose.

Hart slammed Stratton about the mat so hard to win the first stanza that the Ohioan's back was badly strained and it took Hart only 1¾ minutes to win the deciding fall, also with the "flying windmill."

The semi-final attraction, between Joe Montana, Camden, N. J., and Frank Talaber, Chicago, was short and to the point.

Montana took the first fall in 29 seconds when he crossed a right to Talaber's jaw before the Chicagoan could get out of his corner. He followed this with several body slams to complete the fall. Not to be outdone, Talaber retaliated with exactly the same thing to win the second stanza in 27 seconds.

The deciding fall also went to Talaber in 5½ minutes after he had slapped down the Jersey Italian and covered him with a body smother.

Tex Hager, Amarilla, Tex., and Francis Steele, Plymouth, grappled to a draw in the 20-minute opening bout.

BABE MEDER ROLLS 727 IN 'B' LEAGUE

Ed Henrich Comes Through With 278 Game to Share Spotlight In Commercial Circuit.

EDWARD (BABE) MEDER wielded a potent mineralite on his dad's alleys last night to account for one of the finest individual totals rolled in the Commercial B league this winter.

Rolling with the Willis Billiards, Meder blasted the wood for a brillian 727 total, which consisted of games of 252, 233 and 242.

Meder led the Billiards to the high team score of 2821, which enabled the Willis team to take a pair of decisions from the Fifth Street Lunch, paced by Stauffer's 641.

Another highlight of last night's matches was the 278 game rolled by Ed Henrich of the leading Untiet Insurance club. Henrich, brother of Tommy, New York Yankee outfielder, blasted out a 616 as he helped his team reach the 2775 figures.

Selby accounted for another fine piece of bowling with a 635 which he added for the HalBark Clothiers.

* * *

Pete Grohol turned in the best individual effort in the Mansfield Tire league. A member of the Mill Room team, Grohol socked out games of 189, 201 and 223 for a 613.

* * *

McMullen and Hayne of the Morgan Dry Cleaners, with totals of 542 and 541, held the spotlight in the Women's league matches last night. Hayne shot a 221 in her middle game.

Meder came through with a 538 as she led the Heilman Grocers to the top team total of 2357.

FREEMAN KAYOES FOE

FOR SMITH, Ark.—Tommy Freeman, 172, Hot Springs, Ark., knocked out "King Cole," 169, Louisville, (2).

Sheriff's 'Daily Double' Ticket Pays $6,000.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark—(UP)— Sheriff Smith of Little Rock, Ark., spent yesterday at the Oaklawn Park racetrack and was well rewarded for his time. He held the only ticket sold on the second largest "daily double" ever recorded in this country. The successful combination returned $6,002.80.

The record payoff was $7,205.40 that was returned on Wanoah and Arakay in March, 1935, at Tropical Park.

ATTON HEADS FOR CAMP

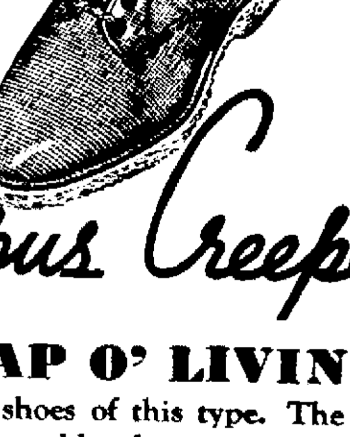

Mohican Chevrolet Catcher Leaves Tomorrow for Columbus, Ga.

Joe Atton, who caught for the Mohican Chevrolets last year, has been ordered to report to the Columbus, Ga., club, operated by the St. Louis Cardinals. Regarded as an outstanding prospect, Atton was signed by the Cardinals for a trial last year. He will leave tomorrow.

THEATER

THIS and That: Joe Penner has been homesick for a little town in Hungary which he hasn't seen for 20 years, and planned to go back to it this summer, but probably won't in view of the European situation . . . A preview tip says that "Bringing Up Baby," with Cary Grant and La Hepburn will top "My Man Godfrey" and "The Awful Truth" in screwy comedies . . . If M. G. M. doesn't take up Nat Pendleton's option, he plans to go on a wrestling tour. He was formerly the A. A. U. champion and still thinks he could throw the best of the grunt and groan boys . . . Contrasts are wide in Hollywood—the big New York zoo set which was erected for Bing Crosby's "Doctor Rhythm" has been torn down to make way for a classic Greek theater which will be a part of Harold Lloyd's "Professor, Beware."

Ohio to Open Doors Early On Saturday

Youngsters who have to go to bed early on accou of school and therefore haven't been able to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" which is at the Ohia this week—here's good news!

There'll be a special show Saturday morning, at 10 for you, and the theater will be open from that hour on through the afternoon and evening. "Snow White" is breaking all records for a week's run at the Ohio.

Hillbilly Entertainment.

Bradley Kincaid, who was singing "She'll Be Comin' Round The Mountain" years before the present crop of hillbillies had taken over the air lanes, will make a personal appearance at the Madison theater today and Saturday, his act of hillbilly singers being combined wit the regular picture bill. Kincaid, one of the first of the mountain ballad singer over the air, appeared at the Madison several years ago as a single act, with only his trusty guitar for a prop. This time he carries his own singers and band, and stages the sort of program that has made him a radio favorite for almost 10 years. The picture feature sounds promising with a gay romance between a milkman and a maid of all work. Only of course they aren't, they're millionaire and debutante on a mistaken identity spree. Joan Fontaine who appeared with Fred Astaire in "Damsel In Distress" is featured with Allan Lane.

Humanizes Animals.

The phenomenal success of Walt Disney cartoon, from the time he first introducd Mickey and Minnie Mouse, is that he has the knack of making animals appear human, with human traits and characteristics. His Donald Duck is a stuffed shirt sort of chap, and his bunnies and squirrels have a child-like innocence and mischievousness. And so it is with all of the new animals he has introduced in "Snow White;" they very satisfactorily take the place of human friends for the little scullery maid when she needs friends most. Disney also goes on the theory that, fundamentally at least, everyone wants the heroines white as snow and the evil characters as black as his ink can make them. And this he does in picturing Snow White and the wicked queen.

* * *

Fonda Is Lucky.

Henry Fonda, who plays a leading role with Pat O'Brien in "Slim" at the Majestic, has been a very fortunate young player since making his picture debut two years ago. He has played only leading roles, and always in successful pictures. His latest triumph is in "Jezebel," the Civil war picture starring Bette Davis, which is acclaimed one of the best pictures in many moons. Fonda's most recent picture appearance here was with Joan Bennett in "I Met My Love Again." In "Slim" he plays a country boy who becomes enammoured with the dangerous life of a high tension linesman and joins a crew. Romance develops with attractive Margaret Lindsay. And Edward G. Robinson picture, "Barbary Coast" rounds out the Majestic movie menu which runs through Saturday.

Hopy Does His Bit.

Back to the stirring days of the Civil war goes Hopalong Cassidy in his latest adventure, "Texas Trail," which the Ritz offers, along with "Annapolis Salute," as its program today and Saturday. When the cavalry needs horses during the war, there is difficulty in getting them across the plains because of rustlers, and so the high officers press Hopalong into service—to deliver Western horses to the U. S. Cavalry. And knowing the redoubtable Hopy and his gang, it is a sure bet that he delivers them. Judith Allen, one of Hollywood's prettiest, injects heart interest into the picture. "Annapolis Salute" has James Ellison, Marsha Hunt, Harry Carey and Van Heflin.

RALLIES SET

Crawford and Huron Young Democrats Meet In April.

County-wide rallies of Young Democratic clubs will be held April 19 at Bucyrus, Crawford county, and April 20 at Norwalk, Huron county, as the Ohio Young Democrats inaugurate an extensive program for the August and November campaigns, Oscar A. Loyer, Findlay, state president, announced today.

"Young Democrats will organize on a precinct plan in every county in the state to make junior members of the party a militant force in Democratic affairs," Loyer said.

James T. Bolan, Toledo, was appointed state organizer to promote the county units.

John F. Correll, president of the Richland County Young Democratic club, said no move had been made to schedule a rally in Richland county.

EAGLE TAKES RAP

Falls In Trap Intended for Montana Coyotes.

ROUNDUP, Mont.—(AP)—Where a coyote should have been, Highway Patrolman Charles Dell and Jack Thomas found an eagle.

The bird was fluttering in a trap set by a coyote hunter near Ryegate and attracted the attention of the two men as they were driving along a nearby highway.

Investigating, they discovered the eagle was not injured seriously and they brought it to Roundup.

SURVEYS ADD TO GLOOM IN DULL SESSION

Dun & Bradstreet Says 'No Light' Discernible to Mark Approach of Upturn.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Rallying efforts were feeble in today's stock market as European war fears continued to stem the buying urge of trading forces.

Gold mines came back and a few rails, rubbers and specialties posted small plus signs, but numerous issues were under water near the second hour.

Bonds were mixed, although some rail loans exhibited recovery signs. Commodities were without definite trends.

In addition to the gloomy overseas outlook, little market inspiration was derived from domestic week-end trade surveys.

Dun & Bradstreet said "no shafts of light" were discernible in any direction to mark the approach of the long-awaited business upturn.

The Review estimated retail sales at the principal centers of distribution held about even with the preceding week but were 9 to 16 per cent under the corresponding period a year ago. Wholesale demand was placed at 10 to 25 per cent below the 1937 volume.

BOSTON WOOL

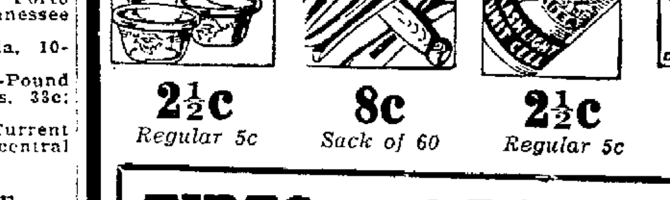

BOSTON—(AP)—(U. S. Dept. of Agr.)—Manufacturers showed an increased interest in domestic wools yesterday and they were making some purchases. Most of the purchases, however, were of small volume as buyers were trying to sound out the market rather than to cover goods orders. The business was quite widely scattered over a number of grades and prices were steady to firmer than were received last week.

GARDEN SCHOOL

All-Day Session Set For Wednesday at Library.

An all-day garden school which will be open to the public, will be held Wednesday in the Larwill room at the Mansfield Public library, County Agent George B. Ganyard announced today.

Speakers for the sessions will be Victor H. Ries, extension floriculturist at Ohio State university, and Paul Tilford, botanist at the Ohio experiment station, Wooster.

Ries will talk on "New Ideas In Gardening" and "Ideas From 100 Gardens I Have Visited." Tilford will give an illustrated lecture. The morning session will open at 10:30 a. m.

The school will be sponsored by the Ohio Association of Garden clubs and the Agricultural Extension service. Arrangements are in charge of Ganyard and Mrs. Charles Lee, Bellville, district chairman of the Association of Garden clubs.

PAROLE JURY TO HEAR DOUGAN

Former Chairman, 18 Others Called as Witnesses.

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Leland S. Dougan, former chairman of the state board of parole, and 18 other witnesses today were summoned to appear before the special Franklin county grand jury investigating pardons and paroles.

Warden James C. Woodard and three inmates of the Ohio penitentiary also have been subpoenaed.

It is expected that the jury will meet only for the day and terminate its investigation. An appeal to the general assembly for $25,000 with which to continue the inquiry has been refused.

The BATSON FURNITURE Co.
Is Offering Its Entire Stock Of Recently Purchased Quality FURNITURE and RUGS

At Public AUCTION!
"Piece by Piece" – To The Highest Bidder

This Stock Will Be Sold At Auction Regardless of Cost

The Reason - - Plain Facts

We moved into this new location in February. We bought an entire new stock of fine quality dependable furniture, rugs and home furnishings at prevailing low "recession prices" in anticipation of a quick uptrend in business.

This anticipated immediate recovery has not materialized and we are quite candid in telling you we need cash for our self preservation. We have chosen the modern way of quick stock disposal and that is by Public Auction, offering our entire large stock of new highly desirable furniture without reserve piece by piece to the highest bidder for cash, regardless of the loss we must suffer.

This auction will be conducted in a strictly hy-grade, dignified manner so I accordingly invite the public to attend tomorrow's opening and succeeding auctions and benefit in the tremendous savings that will be effected.

WALTER B. BATSON

STARTING THIS AFTERNOON
2 to 4:30 O'clock
Again Tonight From
7:30 to 10 p. m.
And will continue with 2 auctions Daily for just a few short Selling Days

The store will open one hour before each auction for inspection of Merchandise.

Please Remember–All Merchandise To Be SOLD for CASH ONLY
Regardless of Former Values

FREE A Useful Gift Absolutely FREE to Every Lady Entering the Store, When Doors Open at 1:00 P. M. Every Afternoon.

FARM AUCTION

WHEN A FARMER SAW HIS SALE BILLS IN THE DITCH HE DECIDED THAT IT WAS REALLY NECESSARY TO USE WANT ADS

Mr. Farmer! Don't take a chance on having an unsuccessful aucotin sale. Remember, you can't sell to people who never heard of the sale and who therefore will not attend.

To get people to attend, you must inform them of your sale ahead of time.

Follow the example of farmers in this vicinity who have assured themselves successful sales by using the NEWS-JOURNAL WANT ADS. Let us help you with your sale copy and if you want to use cuts to make your ad stand out we charge only for the space used.

WORLD WAITS HITLER SPEECH

Fuehrer Expected to Talk on Austria With Brief Mention of Future Policies.

deputies to the new reichstag would be elected from Austria, and it was hinted that, perhaps in the near future, a festive session of the new reichstag would be held in Vienna.

The new reichstag meeting tonight under its president, Field Marshal Wilhelm Hermann Goering, Hitler's right hand man, is the third of the Nazi regime. Tonight's will be its third session. At its last, on Feb. 20, it heard Hitler assert a German protectorate over "10,000,000 Germans living in two neighboring countries." Since than, Austria has been made a part of the reich and France and Russia have expressed their determination to stand by their treaties of military alliance with Czechoslovakia.

GET HIGH PRICE

Maple Syrup Producers Benefit By Buying Competition.

CHARDON, O.—(U.P.)—For the first time in the history of the maple sugar industry here, big outside buyers have forced the priced of bulk sirup to the highest prices ever known in Geauga county.

Prices paid so far are: Fancy sirup (the clearest) $1.43 a gallon; No. 1 grade $1.32, and No. 3 $1.20. Figures are expected to go higher if there is less than a normal yield, producers said.

LOST LADY

By GEORGE E. HOLT

(Copyright 1938)

CHAPTER XXI.

The guard went out, closing the door, but not locking it, so far as Murray could perceive. And the American heard him giving orders to other guards at the door. Orders that they were not under any conditions to leave the doorway, and that if the prisoner tried to get away, shoot him.

The breakfast made a new man of Murray, and, discovering that he had cigarets and matches, he unbound his ankles, made himself as comfortable as possible and indulged in thoughts of escape.

It looked, however, he had to admit, like a pretty poor bet. The room he was in was about twelve feet square. Adobe walls a foot thick. One doorway guarded by two men with rifles. One window perhaps eighteen inches square, cross by two iron bars. No out either by door or window—unless he could invent some trick to take advantage of the guards.

* * *

In all the books he had read, he reflected, the hero was always bright enough to outthink his captors and walk away to safety from under their noses. Now, after he had cudgeled his brains for an hour without getting anywhere, he decided that either he wasn't as bright as fictional heroes, or else they had been careful to pick men who were practically morons as their guards. Assuredly it didn't take much brains to stand at a doorway with a rifle and shoot an unarmed man trying to get out through that door. But it seemed to him that it would take even less brains for him to try to pass through that door.

If there had been but one guard, he reflected, he might have lured the fellow into the room on some pretext, knocked him cold with a haymaker to the jaw, got possession of his gun, and made a fight for it. But two guards was a different matter entirely. Quite different. While he was engaged in knocking one of them out, the other would be working the lever of his Winchester....and that would be just too bad for Murray Kilbourne.

He dismissed that idea, therefore, and proceeded to think of others, which he dismissed even more promptly. The situation was so simple that there wasn't any answer to it.

Thus most of the morning passed, while Red Vasquez was taking himself a wife, and the Senorita Carmen had disappeared from the Cafe Mexico City.

It was nearly noon when the prisoner heard the sound of an automobile approaching the house.

He went to the little window, whence he could see down the long road which led to the abandoned house, and saw a small car coming swiftly.

As he watched, it drew near enough for him to see that a Mexican was driving it, and that in the front seat, beside him, was a woman, muffled in a shawl.

With a screech the car slid to a stop, just within view of Murray, and the woman got out. The driver kept the engine running.

At the same moment two of Vasquez's men ran toward the car, rifles in hand. They stopped abruptly as the woman threw the shawl from her head, revealing the laughing face of the Senorita Carmen.

The guards lowered their guns. Grinned. Said buenas dias. For the Seniorita Carmen was one of them, one of Red Vasquez's girl friends, one of the gang.

* * *

Murray Kilbourne, watching the girl, was suddenly struck by the laughing beauty of her face. Suddenly he realized that he had carried this face in his subconsciousness for days. But now, without the extra make-up that her profession of entertainer demanded of her, it was twice as attractive. And again the question rose: Was she Sue Castle, or was Dolores?

He had, however, little time to think about these matters.

"The prisoner?" demanded the girl. "You have him safe still?"

"Si, senorita," replied one of the men, while the other nodded assent. "Why not?"

"Good," said the girl. "Here is an order from Vasquez. He wants me to bring the American to him at once."

"You, Senorita?" asked one of the guards. "Would it not be better—"

"Read the order," commanded the girl, handing it to the fellow. And as he scratched his head, and studied the scrap of paper, the girl looked about, saw Murray's face at the window, nodded—and winked.

"Well?" she demanded, turning back to the guard who held the message.

"I—I cannot read, senorita," said the fellow. "But I know the name of Senor Vasquez. This is it," he explained, pointing a dark forefinger at the scrawled signature.

"Assuredly," agreed the girl. "Perhaps—perhaps you can read," she suggested to the other guard. But he shook his head.

"Well," continued Carmen, "perhaps you'd like to bring somebody who can read. Or—are you satisfied?"

"Of course, senorita, of course," said the first man. If any of his companions could read, he did not care about having them do so and then go high-hat on him. "It is an order from Senor Vasquez. That is clear. And your desires, then?"

"My desire is that you tie the American up. Tie him well, so that he will give me no trouble. Then put him in the back of the car and cover him up with a robe you will find there. And make haste. Vasquez is in a hurry."

"It shall be done at once, as you say, senorita. Come, Romero; we will attend to this business."

They started toward the house.

* * *

The Senorita Carmen walked idly toward the window where Murray stood.

As soon as the men had rounded the corner she sprang forward. Reached the window.

"You have heard it all, Don Murray?" she asked. "Good. Do as I have indicated. Red Vasquez knows nothing of this."

"Thanks, senorita," said Murray. "Beat it. They're coming."

The girl walked swiftly back to the car. The two men entered, having explained matters to the guards. Proceeded to tie Murray securely. Lifted him and carried him out to the car. Placed him in the rear, on the floor; pulled the robe over him.

"All right, Jaime," Carmen said to the driver. "Adios, Senores," to the men standing about.

Jaime threw in the clutch and the little car jumped like a cat, turned, shot off down the road.

In two minutes they were out of sight of the house.

"Pull up," ordered Carmen, then. And when the car came to a stop, "Untie Don Murray. Be quick."

Jaime pulled the robe from over Murray. Made short work of the knots. Jumped back behind the wheel. Murray lifted himself to the rear seat.

"Take this," said Carmen, handing him an automatic pistol. "We may need it."

Murray took the gun.

"And don't hesitate to use it, if we get into a jam," added the girl.

"Trust me," Murray replied. "I'm about fed up with ropes."

"Make it snappy, Jaime," Carmen told the driver—and they were off again.

But they had gone no more than half a mile when Jaime suddenly jammed on the brakes, shouted "Look! Look!" and swung the little car off the narrow road into a field.

* * *

Coming toward them like a tornado was a big car. Even before their own car screeched to a stop, even as Jaime had shouted "Vasquez!" the big car was up to them. It halted suddenly. Red Vasquez leaped out, followed by Gregorio, Juan the knife-thrower and Avila, all with pistols in hand.

"They've got us!" cried Carmen.

"Not yet," Murray told her. "You stay here."

He leaped from the car. Raced ten paces away from it, so that it was out of range of bullets. Began to fire.

At Red Vasquez.

Avila swayed, threw up his arms, fell. A bullet aimed at Vasquez had gone over his shoulder and got his henchman.

But Vasquez and his men held their fire. Approached him, dodging. Juan, the knife-thrower, fell with a broken leg.

And suddenly Murray's automatic clicked on an empty chamber.

Vasquez, ten paces away now, laughed, and his laugh was echoed by Gregorio, who had gotten in Murray's rear.

STATE AID FOR RELIEF LOOMS

Davey Says He Will Call Back Legislature as Council Debates Bond Issue.

this year proceeds from Ohio unemployment insurance law, now not available until 1939," Davey added.

Meanwhile city council will meet tonight to consider the possibilities of a bond issue to be placed before the voters at a special election as the means of raising the necessary funds here.

Although Mayor Claude M. Hunter said it was still problematical as to just what amount would be needed to finance the relief burden, he indicated that a minimum of $50,000 would be necessary to pay food bills for the balance of this year.

County commissioners will meet this afternoon to act on the division of the $5,529 allocated by the state for the administration of relief in the three sub-divisions, Mansfield, Shelby and Madison township.

Allocations to the subdivisions, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said, would be made on the basis of the February relief load in each district.

While the administration of relief has been set up jointly by Mansfield and Madison township, the township trustees are to meet tomorrow morning to work out their problem of raising the necessary funds to meet township relief costs which last month totaled more than $6,000.

As a means to provide additional WPA work in the city, council also will be asked to consider legislation authorizing Service-Safety Director Tracy C. Styert to file an application with WPA for financial assistance in a project consisting of an inventory of the city's equipment, along with a supplemental appropriation of $200 to meet the city's share of the cost on the project.

As outlined by Glenn Weller, city engineer on WPA projects, the plan calls for the expenditure of approximately $4,000, largely federal funds for setting up a perpetual inventory file.

Council also will be asked by Mayor Hunter to cnsider an $83,000 West Fourth street improvement program along with a $13,000 water main that would also provide for WPA labor.

In addition they will have before them a request from Police Chief Meade K. Bates calling for five additional patrolmen for the police department that will call for additional appropriations of approximately $8,000.

Buses Take High School Band To Bluffton Contest

Mansfield Senior high school's 71-piece concert band was in Bluffton today where it will compete with 25 other bands in the Northwestern District Class A high school band contest being held there at Bluffton high school.

The band left for Bluffton at 9:40 a. m. in three chartered buses, and were expected to arrive there around noon. A truck was also taken along to carry the larger instruments.

The contest opened at 9 a. m., but the Mansfield band is not scheduled to play before 9 p. m., Director J. Merton Holcombe said before leaving this morning. The contest will not be over until after 10 p. m., and it will be some time after that that the final results are known. The band will remain in Bluffton until after the contest.

Accompanying the students on the trip besides Director Holcombe are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Meade, Mrs. W. L. Miller and Charles Beelman.

INSTALLS NEW FIRST AID UNIT

Red Cross Places 6th Station On Lexington Road.

Location for highway first aid station number six in Richland county was announced today by Harker A. Enlow, Red Cross first aid director, as the Hugh Sutter service station, on route 42, three miles south of the city on Lexington road, where a number of accidents have occurred.

Attendants at the station and residents in the immediate vicinity will enter a first aid training class which will open next Friday night at the station.

Ten persons entered the first aid class which opened last night at the Shellhass service station, four miles east of Mansfield on route 42, where a Red Cross emergency aid station will be located. Lloyd Hoover was in charge of the class.

ADMITS LAMP CORD SLAYING

Bellaire Suspect Pleads Guilty In Strangulation Murder.

BELLAIRE — (INS) — Pleading guilty to the strangulation murder of Mrs. Nora Burkey, 38, Francis Smith, 33, was held for the Belmont county grand jury today.

Smith confessed he choked the woman with a lamp cord when she refused to resume an acquaintanceship with him, according to Prosecutor Ross Michener.

Michener said Smith confessed after 36 hours of grilling. Mrs. Burkey's nude body was found March 4 in her home. Smith was arrested for questioning a few hours later and had been held since.

REPORTS 2 MORE SMALLPOX CASES

Health Department Learns of New Afflictions at Lexington.

Two new cases of smallpox reported at Lexington today by the health department brings to a total of 113 cases of the disease in the county since the first outbreak six weeks ago.

The new cases, both adults, bring the total to 75 reported in the county and 38 in the city, Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner, said. He added that there were only 10 active cases in the county at the present time, however.

Today's victims are Theodore Welsh, 34, and Mrs. Edith Hill, 52, both of Lexington.

SCORES IN WILL CONTEST SUIT

Chicago Woman Gains Point In Action Brought by Ashlander.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Mrs. Marguerite B. Cummings, 31, produced two witnesses in circuit court today in an effort to establish the legality of a slip of paper her father, the late James W. Barnhart, left as his will.

Both Mrs. Anna Karow and Clarence Smith testified they signed the paper as witnesses March 27, 1936. Barnhart died two days later. The miniature will named Mrs. Cummings as sole heir of his estate, estimated to be worth $100,000.

Three other children of Barnhart, Ernest R., of Wadsworth, O.; David A., of Ashland, O.; and Mrs. Eva Slater, of Creston, O., are challenging the authenticity of the testament.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE

½ cup water
7 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ cups water
1¼ cups sugar
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 lemon (grated rind and juice)
1 tablespoon butter
1 baked Spry pie shell
3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Mix ½ cup water and cornstarch to thin paste. Combine 1½ cups water and sugar in top of double boiler and bring to boil over direct heat. Add cornstarch paste and cook until mixture begins to thicken; return to double boiler and continue cooking until thick and smooth (15 minutes).

Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook 1 minute longer. Add lemon rind and juice and butter and blend well. Cool, stirring occasionally. Pour into baked pie shell.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Add sugar gradually (about 1 tablespoon at a time) beating constantly. Add lemon juice. Pile lightly on lemon filling. Bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) 15 minutes, or until firm and delicately browned.

BAKED SPRY PIE SHELL

1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Spry
3 tablespoons cold water (about)

Sift flour and salt together. Add ½ of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as corn meal. (Easy as can be with triple-creamed Spry.) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a navy bean. Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough ⅛-inch thick and prick with fork. Place dough in pie plate and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough. Trim pastry ½ inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim. Chill. Bake in very hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes.

(All measurements in these recipes are level)

—(Clip and save this Spry recipe)—

THERE'S fresh lemon juice in the meringue as well as filling to give extra zest and flavor. There's Spry in the crust to make it extra tender and flaky. A perfect pie—your family will beg for it often!

Not pastry alone, but cakes, biscuits, cookies, doughnuts, fritters—everything you bake or fry is doubly delicious with Spry and so digestible a child can eat them.

Spry mixes in half the time. Cooking experts for 281 home-making schools say Spry's the creamiest shortening they ever used. Try Spry today. Save money—get the 3-lb. can.

C. OF C. ENTERS CITY-COUNTY IN HEALTH EVENT

Sends In Complete Report of Work Done In 1937 In Bid For U. S. Recognition.

Mansfield and Richland county, through the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, today had made a bid for national recognition in the annual public health contest sponsored by the United States C. of C. in Washington.

The chamber's health and sanitation committee forwarded to national C. of C. headquarters a complete report of the work done by local agencies in the past year to safeguard the health of citizens in this community.

Mansfield and Richland county won an award for meritorious achievement in public health in competition with other districts throughout the nation in 1935 and 1936.

Based on Achievement.

Grades in the contest are based on achievement made in improving sanitary conditions and adopting precautionary health measures.

Paul W. Williams, secretary-manager of the chamber, said a better grade than last year was anticipated. He pointed out that in 1937 two new sewage plants were placed in operation in the county, one at Bellville and the other in Mansfield. The construction of the Liberty park swimming pool and increased activity in tuberculosis work also was cited.

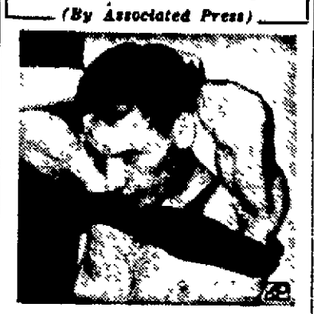

Grades in the contest are expected to be announced in 30 days.

Mansfield and Richland county are entered in the city-rural classification of the northeastern division.

The standard size piano has 88 keys, 52 white and 36 black, and approximately 225 strings.

A LIFE SAVER

Cigaret Case Prevents Bullet From Wounding Garageman.

VANCOUVER, B. C., (INS) — Stanley Parker, Vancouver garage operator, probably owes his life to his cigaret case.

During an attempted holdup a bandit fired point-blank at Parker. The bullet struck the metal case, which Parker carried in his right breast pocket. It dented the metal but Parker escaped injury.

BOARD COMBINES TWO PRECINCTS

Consolidation Tonight to Reduce Number in County to 90.

The county board of elections will meet at 7:30 p. m. today at the courthouse to consolidate two voting precincts in Worthington township, reducing the number of precincts in the county from 91 to 90.

Requested in a petition filed by Worthington township trustees, the board's action will merge precinct C, which included the village of Newville, with precinct B. The C precinct includes 171 electors. It will be eliminated because of the removal of Newville's population to other sections of the township to permit flooding of the area as a part of the Muskingum Conservancy district.

The Reward of Courage.

MICHAEL ONDOV is lying on his face on a hospital cot today—but his horizon is broader than that of many a person who stands at the top of a hill.

Because Michael Ondov is seeing the day when he will be able to walk out of General hospital for the last time, on his own two sturdy legs—back into the world, his own man.

Unless some heart-breaking complication comes up, it seems that Ondov will do just that, for surgical skill has relieved the pressure on his spinal column, and eventually Ondov, divinity student at Wittenberg college, will regain the use of his legs, which have been helpless since he was hurt in an automobile accident last November.

Since that time, he has lain practically helpless. Helpless in body, that is: not in mind. He fought with all his will to get better. He felt that somehow there was something that could be done to help him. His faith proved contagious. Others felt that if he had so much belief, they could help. They did, through their churches and as individuals.

Michael Ondov undergoes his operation—it is successful—he will walk again. Plucky, lucky Michael Ondov!

Plucky Michael Ondov? Yes. Lucky Michael Ondov? Perhaps. But surely lucky are those of us who can profit by Ondov's gallant spirit, who can, through his example, learn to have as much courage.

A Job for 'Charley.'

IT BEGINS to seem as though Charles West, who used to represent the 17th Ohio district, which includes Mansfield, in congress is a lot more versatile than anyone ever suspected.

Of course it's true he proved not to be as good a candidate for the senate as Vic Donahey but what mattered that? He immediately was solaced for that with an appointment as under secretary of the interior. He was the first under secretary of the interior the United States ever had. As a matter of fact, it was a special job, created especially for him.

The duties were few, the hours fair, and the pay good. As a matter of fact the duties were so few that he spent most of his time being President Roosevelt's personal shepherd in the house, where he once was a member. He was supposed to keep the house in line for administration legislation, and a very neat job of it he did—for a while.

After a bit, his immediate boss, Harold Ickes, who is a very positive sort of chap, hauled all the furniture out of West's office, which was a semi-polite way of telling West he was through.

Immediately, a job had to be found for "Charley." Well, none has been found but goodness knows enough have been suggested. He has been suggested for controller of currency, Interstate Commerce commission, and the Federal Communications commission.

Now he's been suggested as a possibility for the presidency of Ohio State university when Dr. George W Rightmire retires.

"Charley" was once a professor at Denison, but politics seemed more intriguing to him. We don't know who suggested him for the Ohio State job, but whoever it was ought to have it pointed out to him that the position isn't supposed to be considered as a political plum, especially for someone for whom no other place can be found.

Let's Smooth This Over.

IF THERE should, by the slightest chance, be any need to give city councilmen concrete proof as the desirability of resurfacing of West Fourth street, a ride over the thoroughfare before tonight's council caucus might provide it.

Of all the streets in the city over which arterial highways are routed, West Fourth is probably the worst. It is to be hoped that council finds a way to match the money the state is willing to put up for the improvement.

It would probably seem like paradise to West Fourth street residents to have a smooth, car track-less street, over which traffic could pass during the night with a minimum of noise, thus permitting them fuller enjoyment of the hours of slumber. At any rate, we don't suppose that they've grown so accustomed to the rattle and bang of cars and trucks over the holes and car tracks that they couldn't sleep without it.

Worthy Undertaking.

IN THESE DAYS, when far more importance attaches to a college education than formerly, the current undertaking of the Mansfield chapter of the American Association of University Women seems worthy of approbation.

The association is undertaking to establish a $5,000 fund, the interest from which will be used to pay the college tuition of a worthy Mansfield High school graduate.

As one of the first moves in its campaign to raise that fund, the association brings to Mansfield for two days next week, Wednesday and Thursday, the picture "Of Human Hearts," built around the life of Abraham Lincoln.

It is to be hoped that Mansfield will support this movement as generously as it has supported others of such merit.

Family Jurors.

CHANCE put a husband and wife on the same jury in Pittsburgh recently. Apparently the lawyers in the case didn't mind. But the husband himself objected.

The judge decided the man was wise. If the husband and wife could not agree about things, the judge said, it would be useless to try the case. Their disagreement would make a verdict impossible. On the other hand, if the husband and wife proved to be one in thought and expression. "We would have an illegal jury."

The story neglects to say which juror the judge dismissed, the wife or the husband. A few years ago doubtless it would have been the wife, because domestic duties would have loomed large and also because women on juries were not highly regarded. But times and attitudes change.

Keeping Step

—By LESLIE EICHEL

I HAVE BEEN reading up on the Communists of China. The more one looks into this matter, the more one is led to believe that all Asia, including Japan, will become communistic.

Japan has begun to penetrate now into the communistic part of China—the region where the peasants arose in protest against the western dominated government of Nanking. And it is more than an even bet that the further Japan penetrates, the deeper it will get into communism itself.

Startling developments are likely to occur in the Far East. And they mean a great deal to America and the British Dominions—and to Russia.

The Far East, rather than the Austrian coup, or the continuing Spanish conflict, is the place where history is most likely to be made on a large scale.

The trouble in Spain has been agitating Europe for many months now. But, regardless of the ideologies being fought out in Spain, and the thousands of lives sacrificed, Spain has little bearing on our future. Spain is a dying land. The Far East is the land of the future. The Far East will have much to do with dominating the future, especially our future.

* * *

A FATAL ERROR

If Chiang Kai-Shek goes to his doom now, and the indications are that he will, it will be due to his betrayal of the Sun-Yat-Sen democracy. When he betrayed that ideal, probably due to the domination of western nations, and killed off many of its supporters, he insured the rise of communism in China.

If the nations that inspired Chiang now bewail his fate (and theirs), they have only themselves to blame.

Chiang divided the nation, gave the Japanese their chance, and paved the way for his own extinction.

* * *

STAND TOGETHER?

Far Eastern events are drawing Great Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States into the same sphere of protectiveness.

Americans will say that they would fight any compact with the Soviet Union.

There probably never will be any compact. But, when time and events force it, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, and the United States may have to take a united stand—individually.

My guess should be, however, that Japan will become through several violent stages a communist nation and join hands with China, as a communist nation, stay within those boundaries, and dominate her side of the Pacific.

The "Big Four" of the future may be the United States, Germany, the Soviet Union and Japan-China. The British dominions will draw closer and closer to the United States, for their interests lie in the Pacific.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Monday, March 18, 1918.

James M. Calvert, prominent business man, died at his home, 181 South Main street.

Dr. I. H. LeBarre, returned from Ontario, Canada, where he had been called by the illness of his mother.

Lieut. R. B. Gardner, of an aviation center at Wichita Falls, Tex., was home on a furlough.

Heirs of Susan M. Sturges sued to break her will which left the bulk of $100,000 to charity.

Judge S. M. Douglass was speaker at the eighth annual banquet of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

Miss Lucille Lindsay and Miss Mamie Hill were named visiting nurses on the staff of the Public Health Nurses.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Saturday, March 18, 1933.

Mansfielders had turned in $165.00 in gold to banks in compliance with anti-hoarding order of federal government.

Henry Busse and his famous band played at the Coliseum.

A hundred Richland county young people gathered at the Mayflower Congregational church for the ninth annual conference of Yopedio societies.

Norman L. Wolfe and Miss Martha Winifred Castor were married at St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Robert O. Richards was an usher at the wedding in Crestline of Miss Edna Harris, Crestline, and Kenneth Blackstone, Columbus.

TVA Removal Talk Recalls Humphrey Case

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—When Senator George W. Norris was drafting the law creating the Tennessee Valley authority his idea was to make the members of the authority's three-man administrative board as nearly independent of outside influence as possible.

He provided for the members' presidential appointment but sought to guard against any member's subsequent presidential removal during his stated term of office.

So capable was the senator's job of draftsmanship that now, when he heartily desires the removal of TVA chairman Arthur E. Morgan, there seems to be no way of removing him. He could resign, of course, but, at latest accounts, he refuses to do so while his health holds out. He does suffer from bronchitis, but bronchitis' ravages are too gradual to promise the early capitulation of as stubborn an officeholder as Chairman Morgan appears to be.

* * *

ANOTHER INSTANCE

The administration had good luck in the case of the late William E. Humphrey, as a Federal Trade commissioner.

Humphrey also held one of these supposedly impregnable governmental positions. He was appointed to it by President Coolidge. As might have been expected of a Coolidge appointee, he proved to be overly conservative when the Roosevelt regime came in, and he was asked to resign.

He refused. Thereupon the president removed him. He appealed to the judiciary, arguing that he couldn't be removed Nevertheless, he was out in the meantime.

In due course the United States supreme court ruled that Humphrey had not been legally removed; was still a trade commissioner.

By then, however, Humphrey was dead. His FTC seat was vacant anyway.

* * *

CONGRESSIONAL PROBE

Now, in spite of President Roosevelt's efforts to settle the quarrel, there is to be a congressional investigation after all, forced by senate conservatives. But Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, "father of the TVA," who had opposed a congressional investigation, inserted a resolution to investigate also the activities of persons and interests opposing the TVA. He says utility corporations have tried their best to destroy the TVA. Thus, if the Norris clause remains, the investigation will be a hot two-way affair.

* * *

HONEST ADMINISTRATION

It is a safe bet that there has been no internal crookedness in the TVA.

There can be some reasonable suspicion of bad management.

But crookedness, if any, strikes me as having been attempted from the outside. I would not wonder if there had been some undertaken externally.

Anybody who balks at an investigation inclines to make one wonder.

Salute to Mothers-in-Law

After centuries of ill-natured jibes at mothers-in-law, the annual custom of paying them tribute at Amarillo, Tex., of which this year's observance was last week, comes as a just and tempered recognition. The name of the individual who started the mother-in-law joke has been deservedly lost to history, but the evil that he did lived after him, and it has only been within the last five years that, through puckish Gene Howe, son of the late Ed Howe of Atchison, Kan., the damage is being partly repaired.

Just where the prejudice against mothers-in-law started is hard to guess. True it is that there are dictatorial mothers-in-law, nagging mothers-in-law and mothers-in-law who smother in their efforts to mother. But these are probably few in comparison to the wise, generous, devoted mothers-in-law who consciously lean backward in their efforts to favor their daughter's husbands or their son's wives, and who make constant sacrifices for the families of their children.

The celebration at Amarillo, in which governors and even Mrs. Roosevelt—who is no amateur as a mother-in-law herself — took part, is a pleasant and graceful tribute. If there were no other reason for extending such recognition, remember that mothers-in-law become grandmothers—and in this selfish and imperfect world there is no more sacred thing than a grandmother.—Kansas City Star.

America's War College.

—By PRESTON GROVER

This is the second of two articles explaining the Army War College and what it does.

WASHINGTON — Already the "bright minds" in the army and navy are studying the Spanish civil war, the Japan-China "incident" and the Italo-Ethiopian campaign in preparation for the next war—when and if it comes.

The studies are going quietly on in the Army and Navy War colleges where chosen officers of the two branches of national defense prepare for advancement to the higher grades.

Their job is to study the latest methods of war—and they leave virtually nothing out that may have a bearing. Here is a part of the mission of the Army War college in Washington, which will help to explain the purpose also of the navy college:

"To train officers for the conduct of field operations of the army and higher eschelons; and to instruct in those political, economic and social matters which influence the conduct of war.

* * *

NAVY HAS ONE, TOO.

THE Navy War college at Newport, R. I., and the War college here, work co-operatively. Of the 95 officers now at the Army War college, 88 are from the army, five from the navy and two from the marine corps. A corresponding army group attends the naval college.

The students at the army college are segregated into committees, each of which is assigned several "directives"—problems—to work out during the 10 months course. The exact nature of the "directives" is kept a school secret.

It is a fair surmise from the broad purpose of the school that the subjects include not only preparation of plans for specific types of war, but such things as management of our own civil populations in event they are driven to panic by armed invasion, as well as the handling of matters like the "draft riots" such as broke out in New York during the Civil war.

* * *

CIVILIAN LECTURERS.

NOT only does the study include strictly American questions; the strength and weaknesses of various possible enemy nations are surveyed. The officers have access to secret maps and other information not available elsewhere. The college works in cooperation with the state department and other government agencies.

Among civilian lecturers are Bernard M. Baruch, financier, head of the War Industries board; Dr. Vilhjalmar Stefansson, Arctic explorer; John P. Frey, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, himself a high-ranking reserve officer; and many others, usually about 85 a year.

The Army War college is strictly a gentleman's school. The officers come to Washington with their families; their pay goes right on; extensive recreational facilities are provided. In spite of the deadly serious nature of their study, life for them is not so tough.

But the military looks upon the business with a serious eye. Here is what U. S. soldier No. 1, Gen. John J. Pershing, says of the training:

"Without the least disparagement of the services of the great body of scientific, professional and business men who held responsible positions during that (World war) emergency, it is only justice to say that, in all essential respects, the directive genius, almost without exception, was the educated soldier."

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"Eating Crow."

It may have happened before the Civil war, but it was in an anecdote dated immediately after that the expression "eating crow" is said to have originated, in the sense, of course, of backing down, eating one's words, or being compelled to do something as unpalatable as eating crow.

According to the story, a private trespassed upon the land of a planter and shot a tame crow.

Enraged, the farmer seized the soldier's rifle and ordered:

"Since you have killed my crow, you have got to eat it!"

A little later the farmer asked: "Well, how do you like crow?"

"I don't hanker after it," was the reply, "but I can eat it."

Mollified, the farmer returned the private's gun, which was immediately turned upon him by the soldier, who demanded curtly:

"Finish the crow!"

There was nothing for the farmer to do but eat crow; the next day, however, he went to headquarters and lodged a complaint against the offending private.

Summoned before his commanding officer, the first question the soldier had to answer was:

"Did you ever see this man before (indicating the farmer)?"

"Sho thing," he remarked. "We—ah—dined together yesterday. We both ate crow!"

FAIR ENOUGH

Mrs. Roosevelt—A Great Woman.

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

SAN FRANCISCO—Mrs. Roosevelt came to San Francisco from Los Angeles by train to deliver her lecture on peace at the very hour when the heads of the bulldog editions were yelling, "Hitler defies the world!" "France threatens war on Germany!"

She arrived at noon and was taken over the usual jumps by the inevitable committee. Her chores included an appearance on the grounds of the 1939 World's Fair, where she sat on a tractor and went through the motions of turning ground for a federal building.

Pegler

Some time during the day she had to turn out her syndicate copy, and presumably she took a few practice swings before her mirror at the hotel before advancing to the pulpit in the Civic auditorium to say her say on a subject which, in the present state of the world, only a brave and honest person would attempt.

It had been another routine day in the life of one who is stingily described as the "most remarkable" and "most energetic" woman of her time in this country, but who deserves more than that. I think we can take the wraps off and call her the greatest American woman, because there is no other who works as hard or knows the low-down truth about the people and the troubles in their hearts as well as she does.

* * *

NO POLITICS OR PROFIT

And for what reason? Mrs. Roosevelt doesn't give a damn about politics in the partisan sense. Profit? She is one member of the family who will not have a dollar of profit to show for eight or more years of banging around the country in a schedule that would break the body and mind of an old-times circus trouper.

There was no style about her audience for the lecture on peace. Undoubtedly there were some mere fans and some more or less deserving Democrats, but the spirit of the gathering, if it is possible to describe a spirit, was one of earnest hope for some cheerful news, some discovery of a formula that would touch the soul of the monster who had just kidnaped a whole country in Europe and threatened to kidnap another as soon as he got his wind.

Of course, the Communists were out, as usual, trying to thumb a ride. Outside the hall they were distributing a tract by Earl Browder advocating co-operation of the peaceful countries.

* * *

HAMPERED BY RESTRAINTS

Mrs. Roosevelt's effort is the more creditable because she works in the strait-jacket of diplomatic and political restraints. Many tempting weapons and arguments lie just out of her reach, because, obviously, she cannot mention Hitler or Germany or go into the particulars of international disputes in the situation.

She nevertheless got home her argument that peace now is not the exclusive business of some distant thing called government, but the personal concern and duty of every individual who must be affected by war.

How peace, then? Well, by tolerance, by the sacrifice of minor differences, by a sincere effort to know and respect the good in other people, by teaching the kids in the family circle to get on together without resort to fists on the slightest provocation.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been before us for five years now. We know her better than any other woman, and she knows the country better than any other individual, including her husband, and the profit is all on our side.

Everyday Poems

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Through Your Eyes.

Let me look through your eyes—you see
Such wonder in the earth and sky—
Let me see all you see and know
This, too, your rules for dreaming by.

You are a brother to the wind,
The tints in air you seek and find;
I would learn how you do this thing.
Is it a special gift of mind?

Show me the skies you know, the trees,
The woodland walks. For what you tell
Me of them, as you see them, makes
Me long to know them half as well.

Listen, World!

Should There Be a Federal Writer's Project?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

These Federal projects for Theatre, Art, Music and Dance Groups—particularly the Writers' Project . . . I'm wondering about them. Are they fair to taxpayers? Are they necessary for the artists themselves? Will they do anyone good?

I'm a loyal Democrat. No one has worked harder for necessary federal relief than I. And I'm equally strong for aiding Art—if and when it can be done. But I doubt very much if this Federal Writers' project is aiding anyone except a lot of lazy and selfindulgent smarties, who won't discipline themselves to meet regulation routine and demands.

Maybe I'm wrong. But I've got to be shown. And until I am, I'm parting with my own tax pennies with extreme reluctance.

Before proceeding, let's consider the traditional lot of a writer. He's supposed to have a tough time of it. He's supposed to go hungry and ragged and cold . . . to drudge at chores he loathes, to suffer endless humiliations and rejections, doing the thing he loves in infrequent, stolen moments when he's already dog-tired from his regular task of peddling potatoes or baking beans.

This is how writers have always been supposed to live . . . and how 999 out of 1000 well-known writers have lived. Nor is this merely misery for misery's sake. It is a useful and essential ordeal which serves two purposes. First—IT MAKES a writer—gives him a vital knowledge of human problems which he could obtain in no other way. Second—it weeds out the WEAKLINGS, the POSEURS, the people with a smattering of talent but no salt or spunk—lacking which, no writer is worth a hoot.

That's the old way. But now comes something new. Now—against all tradition—comes a benevolent administration which says writers mustn't be Treated Tough . . . must, instead, be given Special Consideration for Soul Flights. And so we have—The Writers' project.

To belong to the Writers' Project you must be: of proven talent, but poor and unrecognized . . . able to write fine stuff, but unable to peddle it . . . so hampered by depression and entrenched stupidity that your genius is doomed to die.

Oh, Yeah? All right—let's see. I present two exhibits, for what they're worth.

Exhibit A—For the last two years I have been conducting a personal and extremely quiet survey of the Writers' Project as demonstrated in the various units in California—mainly engaged in collecting historical data. Having been extremely poor, obscure, uneducated and inexperienced for most of my life, I am naturally extremely sympathetic with others in the same light. I started my survey filled with warm enthusiams. I end it with this statement—

In all my extremely variegated experience, I have never met so many pompous fakes, conceited smarties, brazen parasites and lazy young squirts without a smitch of talent, as I have met in these units. There are, it is true, brilliant minds among them. But they are not there because they need to be there. They could easily make comfortable livings for themselves and their families if they would buckle down and work like regular eggs. But they don' wanna. They wanna work just when they wanna work. So they enroll on the Writers' Project . . . and you and I are dumb enough to fall for it.

Exhibit B—I have before me a magazine called "DIRECTION—AMERICAN STUFF", promoting the Writers' Project and written by its members. It is an interesting collection, brilliant in spots. BUT I CANNOT FIND OUT ONE LINE IN ITS TEXT, ONE NAME IN ITS AUTHOR'S LIST, WHICH JUSTIFIES ITS EXISTENCE OR ITS DEMANDS ON THE TAXPAYERS' MONEY.

It's major claim is that "our present commercialized markets of art do not give chance for expression to those of proven and unique talent."

That is simply not so. One of the few markets hardly affected by the depression was the short story or article market. Books have not sold as readily, and for poems there has never been a wide market. But there has never been a time when the man who could write really good short stories or articles could not make a decent living.

The few articles which are of exceptional value in "DIRECTION — AMERICAN STUFF" were by recognized names and could have sold as easily, and at much higher prices, in any standard magazines. But the publishers wouldn't have supported the authors while they weren't working—and there's the rub. And, just between us, it's a damn expensive rub for the American taxpayer.

I repeat—I'm strong for all necessary relief. BUT I HONESTLY BELIEVE THAT FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT AND HIS FELLOW CITIZENS ARE BEING TAKEN FOR A RIDE WITH THIS WRITERS' PROJECT. It's not only wasting the federal treasury but it's raising cain with real talent.

No writer is ever worth shucks until he can and has taken punishment. This spoon-feeding technique would have made a bum of William Shakespeare. If ambitious kids want to become Lewis's or Cather's, let them take the gaff or grit. If they can't sell articles, what's wrong about peeling a few potatoes? Or maybe being a decent wife and mother and writing after the baby's asleep?

As it is—the Writers' Project has become the Hobo's Heaven. And I don't mean maybe!

U. S. OFFICIALS SEE DICTATORS MARCH ONWARD

Believe European Democracies Can't Stop Rapid Advance of Dictatorships.

(Editor's Note: The following dispatch represents a digest of the best informed opinion in Washington—congressional and administrative—concerning the possible consequences of recent events in Europe, as viewed by the American government.)

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
(U P Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—United States officials studying the current war crisis fear that European democracies cannot stop the march of united dictatorial governments.

Since Adolf Hitler's seizure of Austria and the renewed attack by Italian-supported insurgents in Spain, American officials have bent every effort toward analysis of facts and implications behind the European developments. What they discovered and what they expect to occur necessarily are a combination of facts, suspicions and speculation. Above all, there is always the diplomatically-emphasized possibility that an unexpected turn of events will change the picture overnight. But, the United Press was told, current opinion in well-informed sources is that:

1—Hitler will move against Czechoslovakia as soon as he is certain of his control of Austrian military forces.

France Can't Help.

2—France, surrounded by fascist powers and cut off from her central European allies, will be helpless to aid the Czechs.

3—Great Britain, fearful of a test in Europe, will retire behind an increasing wall of armaments designed to protect her from attack, particularly by air.

Of far the greatest historical importance in these grave views of the European crisis was the possible effect of the future position of Britain and France in international affairs. Although by no means presuming to speak officially, high administration sources speculated on the danger that these two powers were being forced toward status of minor league nations.

The vital importance of European developments to the United States was emphasized by the extreme care with which government officials, from President Roosevelt down, have followed the recent developments. So close has been this scrutiny that it was known in official circles two days before it became public news that German troops were moving in large numbers toward the Austrian frontier prior to invasion of that country. One United Press informant gave as his "personal" opinion 18 hours before the invasion that German troops would cross the border next day.

SUES FOR SON

Father Asks $883 Judgment In Suit Against Auto Driver.

Judgment for $883, representing doctor and hospital expenses for his son, is sought by Lloyd Armstrong of Springmill, in a suit on file today in common pleas court.

The defendant in the action is Paul Hassinger, Mansfield, who, the petition states, was the driver of an automobile which struck Ralph Armstrong, 16, last Oct. 23 near Springmill. The youth, who was riding a bicycle when he was injured, suffered multiple head and body injuries and was confined to a hospital for three weeks, the action says.

A Farmer's Diary

March 17.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY The wearing of the Green. When Irish Eyes Are Smiling, the Shamrock—the humorous Irish tales—all these have helped to make a country loved at home and abroad.

But it holds something more. It is the day to plant seeds in cold frames and grow plants of sufficient size for replanting later. I smelled the fresh dug soil, touched it with my hands, and after careful mixing sowed the seed and covered it with the garden rake.

Yes, it is spring, for last night I heard many frogs croaking from our little pond in the woods. A veritable chorus rang out through the trees. I listened, much delighted, until the neighbor's dog barked and stopped the music.

This morning down by the shelter of a tall I heard the thrilling note of the wood peewee. It seemed too early, but I saw it swing upon a shrub and heard its song again.

The sky was clear as the sun rose above the horizon; layers of fog gathered like white clouds in all the valleys. The woods, wet from yesterday's warm showers, held an unusual, pleasant, pungent fragrance. I felt the force of beginning life about me. I heard the water soak into the earth beneath the bed of leaves.

"One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can."
—Wordsworth.

GRILL TWO IN KIDNAPING CASE

Federal Agents Jail Suspects In Abduction of Grocer.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(INS)—Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation grilled two men today after their arrest as suspects in the kidnaping and robbery of L. C. Robinson, Lexington, Ky., chain store employe.

Robinson was seized as he parked his car in the Kentucky city Wednesday evening. Thursday he walked into police headquarters here and told police of the kidnaping and said he had been beaten by his abductors and robbed of $4.

He said that upon arriving in Charleston, the two men parked the automobile and fled.

GIVEN AWARDS

Girls In Troop 3 Honored at Recognition Service.

Merit badges and pins were awarded today to 21 Girl Scouts of Troop 3 when an investiture service and tea was held at the home of their leader Mrs. Donald Black Raemeltons House. Mothers of the girls were guests.

The second class Scouts who received merit bades for various classifications were: scholarship, Pauline Auxter, Alice Lamoreux, Helen Meihack and Patty Olin; craftsman, Helen Meihack; artist, Ann Loughridge.

Silver stars for attendance were awarded to Pauline Auxter, Alice Lamoreux and Patty Olin, and gold stars for atendance went to Helen Meihack and Virginia Davis.

Following the investiture service, Mrs. Roger Black, recently elected commissioner of the Girl Scout council in Mansfield, gave a talk on the changes that have been made in the National Girl Scout organization as to rules and regulations.

CHECK 'TIP'

Police Hear Ruth Baumgardner Slain, Buried In Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—An unconfirmed report that Ruth Baumgardner, missing Ohio Wesleyan university co-ed, had been slain and then buried in a hill district garage was received today by Pittsburgh detectives.

The tip was attributed to a prisoner named Gleeton in the St. Clairsville, O., jail.

Miss Baumgardner, 23, a senior, disappeared from the university dormitory at Delaware, O., last May. According to the unconfirmed report, Miss Baumgardner was slain elsewhere and then brought to Pittsburgh for secret burial.

STUDENTS TO AID FUND FOR ONDOV

Benefit Box Social to Be Held Tonight at Y. M. C. A.

Senior high school students will be given an opportunity to contribute toward the fund being raised by Mansfield Lutheran churches and other groups to finance the spinal operation Michael Ondov, Wittenberg divinity student underwent Wednesday at General hospital, at a benefit box social and dance being sponsored tonight at the Y. M. C. A. by the Senior Hi-Y club. All the receipts will be given to the Ondov fund.

The event will begin at 6 p. m. Girls attending will bring a box containing lunch for two. The boxes will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. Each member of the club will furnish a cake which also will be sold at auction.

Following the lunch, dancing will be held with music being furnished by Jimmie Sans and his orchestra.

HELD HERE FOR NON-SUPPORT

Lorain Man Returned on Charge of Violating Probation.

Ralph Williams, 31, of Lorain was held in the Richland county jail today on a charge of violating his probation in failing to support his wife and nine-year-old son.

Indicted by the county grand jury for non-support in April, 1936, Williams pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for five years.

He was returned to Mansfield by Sheriff E P Long and Deputy Frank Robinson after his wife, who lives in Mansfield, had complained to Probation Officer Harry Crouse.

Williams will be arraigned before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston.

LEGION HOST TO ORPHANS

Fifty-five children of the Richland County Children's home were guests of the 40 and 8 of McVey post No. 16, American Legion at the evening performance of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," at the Ohio theater yesterday. The children were taken to the theater after school in buses furnished by the Mansfield Rapid Transit company. Arrangements for the theater party were made by H R Neuman and J. L. Zimmerman.

PONTIAC CLUB MEETS

Thirty-three service men, representing Pontiac dealers in central Ohio attended a meeting of the Pontiac Service club yesterday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, in charge of C. F. Devereaux and Howard Niggles of the Cleveland zone Pontiac office.

THE OLD HOME TOWN —By Stanley

SAVES HIMSELF

Boy Says Mother Threw Him Into Well, Then Leaped Too.

CENTER, Tex.—(INS)—Suddenly becoming violently insane, Mrs. Jane Rowland, 40, former school teacher, bound her seven-year-old son's hands and threw him into a 25-foot well at Campti, near Center, it was learned here today.

After throwing the child in the well, Sheriff J. B. Sample said the mother jumped in herself. The child was rescued late last night.

He struggled frantically until his mother drowned. He told the sheriff that when his mother sank in the eight feet of water he stood on her body which apparently remained in an upright position in the narrow well.

Bucyrus Host To Youth Conference, Expect 200 Envoys

BUCYRUS—Approximately 200 young people from surrounding towns are expected in the city Sunday when Bucyrus Hi-Y and Girl Reserves will be hosts at the largest youth conference ever to be held in the city. Young people will attend from Marion, Mansfield, Mt. Gilead, Upper Sandusky, Crestline, Galion, and Crawford county consolidated schools. Sessions will be held in the First M. E. church.

Discussion leaders will include secretaries from Y. M. C. A. organizations of Columbus, Marion, and Galion, school men, and a physician and surgeon.

Dr. Frank D. Slutz, Dayton educator who delivered the commencement address here several years ago, will be the principal speaker. He will deliver a short talk at 3 o'clock and conduct a forum at 4:30, and later will appear on the dinner program.

HULL PROTESTS TARIFF ON PORK

Law Would Be Move Toward Economic Suicide, He Says.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Hull declared today that enactment of a pork tariff, inserted by the house in the tax revision bill, would be an attempt at economic suicide.

"There is no more dangerous game than an embargo policy in foreign trade," he said.

"I am firmly of the opinion that this proposal, if adopted, would not benefit the corn-hog industry of this country even temporarily."

Hull voice his objections to the proposed import tax of six cents a pound on pork products in a letter to the senate finance committee.

MARKETS OFFER SASSAFRAS, IT'S SURE SIGN OF CHANGING SEASON

Holding an inconspicuous place at practically every market these days are little bundles of sassafras bark, harbinger of spring, and an indispensible article for the old timers who believe in "thinning the blood" for warmer temperatures.

Other unmistakable signs of a changing season in food produce are white radishes and green onions, and small white summer squash, which are offered at various markets this week.

Sun ripened strawberries from Florida and Louisiana will find their way to local markets and ultimately to Sunday menus. Honeydew and Persian melons, which are being shipped across the continent, are of good quality and taste.

Although fresh cocoanuts have been available here for some time, several markets have obtained a number of them in their encasing shells and will have them on display Saturday. The fruit market this week offers a variety which includes pineapples, persimmons, avacado, a few South American peaches and grapes, Temple and California oranges and grapefruit at almost any price. One of the most popular items are the small oranges which sell for around a penny apiece or slightly more.

Practically all kinds of winter and early spring vegetables are to be found in the Mansfield produce stores, most of which are shipped here.

Egg plant and cauliflower, okra, kale, mustard greens and fresh young turnips and beets with tops are offered at most stores.

The shopper will find bunches of fresh mint and water cress, parsley and parsley root, celery hearts and fresh rhubarb. Those who prefer to grate their own horseradish will find roots of it in many stores.

New potatoes, while no longer "new," are much in demand.

SOLVE SANDUSKY MYSTERY

SANDUSKY—(AP)—Sheriff William Souter and Coroner E. J. Meckstroth joined today in an opinion that an amputated leg found at Bocart, four miles south of here, was amputated legally, and that it was later buried by its owner.

Stock Exchange Expels One Time Wall Street Hero

NEW YORK—(INS)—The stock exchange booted its one-time hero into the street today.

Stiffly, formally, the exchange expelled its former president, Richard Whitney and suspended two of his partners, Edwin D. Morgan, jr., and Henry D. Mygatt. Without a word to show that they remembered, the exchange board abandoned the man who in 1929 stuck to the financial ship and did his utmost to prevent its collapse.

Nine years with stocks crashing, Whitney called out a bold, reckless bid of 205 for 25,000 shares of Steel with Steel quoted at 190. Surprised, the market halted abruptly in its downward trend and fraction by fraction, Steel cautiously rose to 206½.

While it hesitated there, Whitney and a handful of others desperately and grimly sought to rally the rest of the market behind the Steel advance but there was no stemming the tide and with no support forthcoming, Steel resumed its downward trend to complete the collapse.

Whitney has lost his governorship, his seat on the exchange, his membership. Morgan and Mygatt were each suspended for three years.

500 SCOUTS AND DADS ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

Hear Ozark Ripley, Writer and Sportsman In Plea For Wild Life Conservation.

More than 525 Mansfield Boy Scouts and their fathers attended the 18th annual Father and Scout banquet last night in the Westinghouse cafeteria, setting a scout banquet attendance record.

Dinner was served in two sections, and was followed at 8 p. m. by an all-scout program in the Westinghouse auditorium.

Guest speaker was Ozark Ripley, writer of outdoor stories, hunter and fisherman, who told the scouts of his hunting and fishing experiences, and closed his talk with a plea for a closer cooperation between the father and the scout in the matter of conversation of wild life and natural resources.

Musical Program.

Preceding the dinner a song fest as held in the auditorium for the scouts and fathers, lead by Floyd Dent, area scout executive.

The program included two vocal solos, "Mother Machree," and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," by Margie Swigart; Outdoor handicraft exhibit by troop No. 1; history of American flag by troop No. 2; first aid demonstration by troop No. 4; tap dancing by member of the colored troop No. 7; Comedy sketch by Lawrence Chamberlain and Maurice Stretch; Hill Billy act by Scout Jackie Spicer, and the erecting of a model sail boat by the 14 Sea scouts.

Music was furnished by the Boy Scout orchestra under the direction of Eugene Smart. The program was opened by a welcome to the scouts and their fathers by A. E. Allen, vice-president of the Westinghouse Mansfield plant. C. G. Hillier, scoutmaster of troop No. 8, acted as master of ceremonies.

COURT PLACES 2 ON PROBATION

Non-Supporters Make Promise to Pay Regularly.

Cited in probate court this morning for failure to support their minor children, James Mosley, 20, colored, and Thomas Lee, 38, both of Mansfield, were placed on probation for two years by Judge C. J. Anderson.

Mosley, a filling station attendant, is the father of a three-months-old child, and Lee, a salesman, was cited for failing to contribute to the support of his 17-year-old son.

Probation was granted after both men promised to make regular payments for support of their families.

BOARD ELECTS

BUCYRUS—Mrs. C. C. Richard was elected president of the Girl Scout advisory board which recently met for the first time in a tentative organization, at a meeting Wednesday night in the Girl Scout rooms in the Hopley building.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Ervin S. Lutz, vice president; Miss Aileen Philbin, secretary, and Miss Betty Crall, treasurer.

THREAT TO PASS

Clear Skies Expected to Halt Rising Ohio Streams.

Clearing skies today boosted the hopes of residents of southern and eastern Ohio who watched rivers overflow their banks and threaten to inundate hundreds of homes.

Despite a light rain which fell last night, flood threats had vanished in Richland county today, with most of the streams back in their banks. Total rainfall in Mansfield during the past 24 hours was .12 of an inch. Temperatures in Mansfield ranged from 35 to 46 degrees.

Although the Ohio, Muskingum, Scioto and Hocking rivers continued to rise this morning following last night's rain, the passing of the storm area was expected to save lowland dwellers along the streams from further flood damage.

The weather forecast carried the promise of fair and warmer tonight. Saturday will be cloudy with colder weather due to reach Ohio by Sunday.

POLICE JAIL 2 FOR PROBE

Alleged Army Deserter, Akron Man Held Pending Word From Other Cities.

Two men, one an alleged deserter from the United States army, were held in jail today for investigation by police.

A 21-year-old youth, arrested yesterday at his home on East Fourth street, was held while police sought to communicate with the commander at the army post at Ft. Thomas, Ky., near Cincinnati.

The man, police said, admitted leaving the post, Feb. 6, after 20 months in the service.

While police were checking with Summit county authorities, a 47-year-old colored man, who gave an Akron address, was held until a reply to their inquiries was received here.

Police said the man had served prison terms in several state penitentiaries for peddling narcotics. He was arrested yesterday when officers spotted a pair of used license plates on the new car he was driving.

NOW—GET "JUNE-DAY" SPARKLE
Even When Clothes Are Hung Inside

NOW—say good-bye to dingy winter washes! See clothes come so white and sweet smelling that you'd think they had hung in the summer sun for hours!

A single washing with OXYDOL will accomplish this safely—without boiling, without scrubbing.

For OXYDOL is a new soap discovery that soaks white clothes so much whiter that women everywhere are amazed. Scientific Tintometer tests showed that, cup for cup, OXYDOL actually soaked clothes as white in 15 minutes as other tested soaps did in a full three-quarters of an hour!

Combining speed, whiteness and SAFETY in a way no other single soap has ever done before, OXYDOL accomplishes these highly important things:—

(1) Soaks out dirt in 15 minutes, without hard rubbing or boiling. Even "grimiest" spots come snowy white with a quick rub. (2) Cuts washing time 25% to 40%, in tub or machine. (3) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter, as proved by Tintometer records. (4) Yet so SAFE that every washable color comes out sparkling, brilliant, fresh!

OXYDOL is economical, too. Tests show that, cup for cup one package will go one-third to one-half again as far as even the most modern chips!

You can get OXYDOL at all dealers. Say good-bye to winter-drab washes forever by ordering a package today. Procter & Gamble.

SO. BOULEVARDS ASK ANNEXATION

Residents South of City File Petition With Commission; Hearing Set For May 13.

Seeking annexation of the South Boulevards section of the city of Mansfield, a petition had been filed today with Richland county commissioners by residents of the area south of the city limits.

Commissioners set the date for hearing on the petition at 10 a. m. May 13 at the commissioners' office in the courthouse.

The petition for annexation bears the signatures of about 85 per cent of residents of the South Boulevards section. There are nearly 70 persons of voting age in the residential area, according to R. K. Clark, agent for the petitioners.

The Boulevards area, located in Madison township, is in two sections of 75 and 85 acres. It is a recently - developed residential community adjoining Lexington avenue.

URGE FUNDS FOR PARK PROJECT

Workers Alliance, CIO Council Back Development Plan.

A resolution urging city council to appropriate funds to meet the city's share, so a proposed WPA park development project can be started, had been adopted today by the Richland County CIO council.

The resolution, drafted by the Richland County Workers Alliance, will be presented to city officials. Each local CIO labor unit will be asked to act on the resolution, it was said.

The Workers Alliance also voted to petition the state office of the Federal Surplus Commodities administration, asking that all WPA workers in the county be permitted to receive food supplies distributed through the county relief office. Under the present setup, only direct relief clients are eligible to participate in the distribution of commodities.

FRANCE, RUSSIA SEEK TO QUIET NEW UPRISING

Confer With Lithuania, Poland In Effort to Avert Clash That Could Bring War.

of each country's minority population.

5. Commercial and customs treaties.

6. Redress for the frontier incident of March 11 in which a Polish border guard was killed.

The Lithuanian government today summoned the semias (parliament) to meet tomorrow to decide how to answer the Polish ultimatum.

The government banned anti-Polish demonstrations to prevent new tension, though Lithuanian semi-military nationalist organizations were demanding rejection of the Polish demands.

The government's attitude was described as conciliatory, but news that the Polish army chief, Marshal Edward Smiglyrydz, had arrived at Wilno, near the frontier, sent a wave of excitement through Lituania.

The cabinet meanwhile consulted friendly powers on possible means of peaceful settlement and studied the Polish note, described as of "extremely grave character."

'Must Prevent War!' Lloyd George Warns.

PARIS—(INS)—"We must prevent war!"

With fists clenched, David Lloyd George left this warning at the French foreign office today as a number of British statesmen, once prominent in cabinet affairs, brought pressure to bear for formation of a strong French government to meet the international crisis.

The war-time prime minister of Britain conferred at length with Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour. It was as he left the Quai D'Orsay that he was heard to deliver his strong warning to the latter's son at the doorway.

Also in Paris is Walter Citrine, president of the British trade union council. Winston Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, is expected here this afternoon and Anthony Eden, who resigned as foreign secretary in a dispute with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain over negotiations with dictatorships, is at Cannes.

British Cabinet Split Fears Fade.

LONDON—(U.P.)—Well informed sources said today that though there has been disagreement in the cabinet regarding Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's foreign policies, he is assured of united support and that a cabinet crisis is most unlikely.

There have been insistent and circumstantial reports for several days of cabinet disagreements and suggestions have been made that Chamberlain might resign or that a national union government might be formed.

Opponents of Chamberlain's policies in the conservative party even went so far as to draft a "reconstruction plan" which involved replacing Chamberlain with Winston Churchill as prime minister and reappointing Anthony Eden to the foreign office.

Usually well informed sources told the United Press today, however, that there would be no cabinet split and that even though there might be disagreement with Chamberlain, he would be supported "up to the hilt" as one man termed it.

Austrian Suicide Wave Continues.

VIENNA—(U.P.)—Two prominent Jewish physicians committed suicide today.

Prof. Wolfgang Denk, internationally known head of the University of Vienna's second surgical clinic, and Jonas Borak, x-ray specialist, shot themselves as the Nazification of Austria continued under a new slogan "One blood, one folk, one reich, one fuehrer."

Nazis, still celebrating jubilantly the union of Austria and Germany, awaited eagerly Adolf Hitler's speech before the reichstag in Berlin tonight, which will be broadcast throughout "greater Germany."

The purge of Jews went on in even greater force, especially in governmental and cultural institutions.

The Vienna philharmonic orchestra was Nazified, stripped of its Jewish members and placed in charge of Commissar Wilhelm Jerger, composer and contrabass of the orchestra.

Universities and institutions of higher learning throughout Austria will remain closed until April 20 when they will re-open with solemn dedication ceremonies to Nazi ideology. Many changes in staffs were expected.

Britain, France Seek To Halt Air Raids.

LONDON—(U.P.)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today that Great Britain and France had agreed to try to halt the bombing of Spanish cities and that France was seeking the aid of the Vatican in the effort.

No Pep? Look Out For Acid Stomach

When you feel low and have no pep, the trouble, very often, is caused by an over-acid stomach. In that case, be sure to get KALIN Antacid Powder. It works two ways—first, it stops the over-active acids from aggravating the irritated stomach lining. Then it neutralizes the excess acids and thus aids in restoring normal digestion. If you suffer from sour stomach, heartburn, belching, gas cramps, acid indigestion or other disorders caused by hyperacidity, over-indulgence or faulty diet—get a package of KALIN today. The first dose should give you relief. Your money back—if you don't agree it does more for your sick stomach than anything you ever used.

Roosevelt Renews Probe of TVA 'Misconduct' Charges

POWER BOARD'S FOES HINT AT NEW 'SCANDAL'

President Calls In Morgan, 2 Aids to Second Meeting on Current Squabble.

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt turned his office into a sitting magistrate's court for a second time today in an effort to extract "factual proof" from Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, that two of the latter's directing colleagues were guilty of "dishonesty, bad faith and misconduct."

David Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan, constituting a majority of the three-man board, once more were to appear and presumably not only deny Dr. Morgan's charges but renew their countercharge that the TVA chairman should be brought to book for "improperly obstructing" the functions of Mr. Roosevelt's pet public power project.

Probe Looms Certain.

Regardless of today's hearing at the White House, where questions and answers will be made public in stenographic transcript, a congressional investigation of the TVA rumpus appeared certain. Opponents of the New Deal said it would develop into another "Teapot Dome scandal." Presidential supporters in congress angrily charged that a political "mud-slinging" campaign was in the making.

A prime issue was the claim of Senator George L. Berry (D) of Tennessee, and his associates for a large cash settlement on allegedly worthless marble quarry property now flooded as a result of TVA operations. Berry, who sits in the senate by virtue of gubernatorial appointment to a vacancy, is head of the pressman's union and was an associate of John L. Lewis, CIO leader, in "labor's non-partisan league."

President Roosevelt was represented as being quite irritated by Chairman Morgan's refusal to date to produce "facts" in proof of his charges against Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan.

Express Disappointment.

"Frankly, I am disappointed," President Roosevelt said a week ago today when seven hours of questioning failed to persuade Dr. Morgan that he should back up his grave charges with factual evidence.

The embattled TVA chairman not only resisted all of the president's persistent examination last Friday but he repeatedly answered the executive's questions by saying that "this meeting is not, and in the nature of the case cannot be, an effective or useful fact-finding occasion." He made it apparent that he preferred to face a congressional committee as a more "impartial" court.

Up and Down THE STREET

Paul Auxter and Dr. C. H. Sanborn probably will be satisfied if they don't see another basketball game for a long time. To get choice seats and not miss any of the action, the Mansfielders went to Columbus yesterday morning for the state tournament games. And to say that they didn't miss anything is putting it mildly. They witnessed eight games in succession during the afternoon and evening, including the Mansfield-Cincinnati contest which was really responsible for their Columbus trip.

Lum Rudolph, 421 Louise avenue, slipped a fast one over friends this week and is still chuckling about it. He made a statement that he could go out and find mushrooms, and three or four of the more avid mushroom chasers scoffed, and offered to bet on it. Thereupon Rudolph went to a chosen spot on Lumbermen's hill where he had placed a glass tumbler upside down, where the sun could strike it. Under the glass were two of the tiniest sprouts imaginable. In fact it took a magnifying glass to positively establish the fact that the tiny objects were mushrooms. But they were and he collected.

Parents and friends of Senior high school band members, who were unable to go to Bluffton to hear the school band contests today, were rooting at home for their favorite music ensemble. Last night when Merton Holcombe, director of the band, put the musicians through their final paces, more than 50 parents sat in the school auditorium and listened to the program the band will offer today in the contests. The youngsters rehearsed patiently for two and a half hours and if they don't bring home the bacon today there will be at least 50 persons who will question the judges' choice.

NEARING JURY

Greenwich Man Asks $15,000 In Damage Action.

A damage suit in which Linus F. Phillips of Greenwich seeks to collect $15,000 for injuries he received in an automobile-tractor collision was expected to go to a jury in common pleas court this afternoon. The trial opened yesterday morning and six witnesses had been heard by the jury before noon today.

Defendants in the suit are Mrs. Blanche Simmons, Samuel S. Holtz and Frank Holtz, all of Plymouth.

Phillips claims he was hurt last April in an accident which involved a tractor and two automobiles in Shiloh. He contends that Mrs. Simmons, driving one of the cars, attempting to pass the other, driven by Samuel S Holtz, causing the cars to collide with his tractor.

Phillips is represented by Attys. Long, Anderson and Green of Shelby while Attys. Weldon and Huston and L. H. Beam compose the defense counsel.

MARION PILOT DIES IN CRASH

Aid Also Killed When Army Observation Planes Lock Wings Near Manila.

(By Associated Press)

MANILA — Two United States army observation planes locked wings in midair near Fort Stotsenburg today and crashed, killing two fliers and injuring a third.

Second Lieut. William McBee and Private Harold Northquest were killed when the planes broke from a formation of five and whirled to earth. They were on a routine flight.

Second Lieut. Joseph Nazzaro, who leaped with a parachute, was seriously injured when he struck a tree. Sergeant Nelson, Nazarro's observer, made a successful parachute jump.

An official army statement said the planes were blown together by an updraft. McBee and Northquest were unable to free themselves from the cockpit.

McBee, a graduate of the United States military academy, was unmarried. Northquest, who had been stationed in the Philippines since July, 1936, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ana Northquest of Marion, O.

Nazarro is from Brooklyn and Nelson from Chicago.

POLICE KILLER TO BE FIRST PARALYTIC TO DIE IN CHAIR

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — Carl Boettcher, 24-year-old Clevelander, faced today the prospect of being the first paralytic to be executed in Ohio penitentiary's electric chair.

Looking up from a stretcher in common pleas court where he had been rushed from the hospital, Boettcher heard a three-judge court late yesterday pronounce him guilty of the slaying of Detective Robert Cline in a Feb. 4 gunfight between police and four bank robber suspects.

From Judge Dana F. Reynolds—sitting with Judges Henry L. Scarlett and Cecil J. Randall—came the verdict that made death mandatory:

"In spite of the fact he is now in this helpless condition, we have been unable to find anything in the evidence to accord him that mercy which his counsel urged the court to extend."

Boettcher, paralyzed in the lower part of his body as the result of a bullet wound suffered in the battle, listened without visible emotion. His attorney immediately filed notice of motion for a new trial.

Boettcher was the second person condemned to death as an aftermath of the gun battle which followed a police raid on a west side rooming house. Stephen Figuli, 20, also of Cleveland, was convicted last week by a jury that refused to recommend mercy.

The other members of the quartet, which was suspected of robbing an Ohio National bank branch of $3,500 a few hours earlier, were slain.

TAG SALE LAGS

Only 1,600 Autoists In City Have Bought New Licenses.

With the deadline for 1937 auto tags only 11 days away, the sale of 1938 licenses in Mansfield is approximately 50 per cent behind that of the same period last year, Frank Beverstock, deputy registrar, said today.

Only 1,662 passenger car licenses had been sold up to today as compared with 3,100 for the same period last year.

The sale of truck licenses for this district is equally low with 284 sold. Last year's total for the same period was 405. For the entire 12 month period last year the Mansfield registrar's office sold 15,400 passenger car tags and 3,500 truck plates.

The office will remain open on Saturday afternoons until 5 o'clock.

The deadline for displaying 1937 licenses is March 31.

OVERWHELMING VICTORY SEEN FOR ARMS BILL

Foes of Sea Defense Measure Making Last Battle Before Final Vote Monday.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Tentative approval of a 20 per cent increase in the American fleet gave administration leaders confidence today that the house would pass the billion-dollar naval program by an overwhelming margin.

Before the final roll call on Monday, however, foes of the bill were making a determined effort to strike out the so-called policy section which would commit the navy to a non-aggressive role but assign it to "protect our commerce and citizens abroad."

Instead, the opponents favored a proposal by Representative Kniffin (D., Ohio) to establish definite "naval frontiers" of the United States, behind which the fleet would be impounded unless attacked. This plan would require the withdrawal of all American warships from Asiatic waters.

The fleet increase which the house tentatively authorized would permit construction of 46 new warships, 22 auxiliary vessels and 950 airplanes.

Approves Proposals.

By a 98 to 63 vote, the house refused yesterday to kill a provision for building three new battleships. It also declined to make their construction contingent on the calling of an international disarmament conference.

One suggestion to discuss joint action against aggressor nations was sent to world powers yesterday, by Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs. Of that proposal Senator Pittman (D., Nev.) said:

"It would not only be futile but deceptive to discuss collective action when it is obvious that several governments are ready to take military advantage of each other as quickly as possible."

Pittman pointed out that Secretary Hull "indirectly" went on record yesterday in his speech before the National Press club as being against Litvinoff's proposal.

On the basis of Hull's speech, observers in touch with the state department outlined their conception of his foreign policy, as follows.

1. A big navy and adequate arms so as to enforce respect for American rights abroad.

2. Collaboration and consultation with Great Britain and France and other nations interested in promoting peace, without, however, entering into an alliance with them.

ROBERT CULLER DIES AT AGE 17

Olivesburg Youth Succumbs in Ashland After Operation.

OLIVESBURG—Robert Lester Culler, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Culler of near here, died Thursday evening in Samaritan hospital, Ashland. He had undergone an appendicitis operation Thursday morning.

Surviving besides his parents are four brothers and three sisters. Short funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday at the family home, and regular services will be held at 2 p. m. at the Church of God in Ashland, with Rev. Charles Hammon officiating. Burial will be in the Red Haw cemetery.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

Just Too Brilliant.

THE APOLOGIES of his young press agents do not disguise the significance of the sudden collapse of the New York gubernatorial candidacy of Robert H. Jackson, now solicitor general and a close friend of the president.

The importance of his announced withdrawal lies not in the fact that he has made a somewhat silly spectacle of himself, because, except for his link with the White House, there is no great weight to Jackson, and the persistent ballyhoo about his brilliancy had become funny. In fact, it was one of the things that contributed to his flop. In politics it is easy to over-advertise, and brilliancy isn't exactly the word to carry a candidate far.

RATHER, the importance of the collapse is that with the personal support of the president of the United States he was unable to make the grade. That reflects not so much upon Jackson as upon his White House backer. It is, to date, the most concrete and interesting demonstration of the presidential political impotence that has been given. In plain words, what it means is that Mr. Roosevelt attempted to name his party's candidate for governor of his own state, without the cooperation or consent of James A. Farley, and found he could not do it.

IT WAS an extraordinary thing for him to have tried, and to the politicians the deductions are clear. One is that Mr. Roosevelt's smartness as a politician is only when he is riding the tide. Another is that the definitely ignominous failure of the Jackson business diminishes the prospect of a Roosevelt-dominated Democratic National convention in 1940, because it diminishes the chances that the great New York delegation of 90 votes will be amenable to his influence or docile to his direction. Had he succeeded in putting Jackson over, his domination in the state would have been certain and Farley would have been shoved over on a political side track. As it is, the delegation is much more likely to be Farley's than his.

IT IS interesting to review the facts about the Jackson candidacy. A few months ago, with the open blessing of the president, his young adviser let it be known that he wanted to be governor. At once a vigorous campaign, more or less White House directed, was launched. The brilliancy ballyhoo got under way and a strong publicity buildup for the president's choice was started. Thomas Corcoran (Tommy the Cork), with other brilliant members of the inner circle, arranged a great testimonial banquet in New York for the candidate. All sorts of administration pressure was applied and Mr. Roosevelt personally lent a hand toward making it a success.

THE candidate was eulogized as "brilliant." He responded with great breast-beating vigor and was hailed by the faithful as the next governor of the state. In the senate and elsewhere he was mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination, it being clear that if elected governor in 1938, with the president's backing, he would be in most advantageous position for 1940. At this stage, Jackson was literally covered with bee stings and his press agents let it be known that the gubernatorial nomination was a "push-over." They began to write pitying stories about poor Farley, as having been put "in the dog house" by the brilliant young left wingers of the White House group.

ALL THIS time Farley had said nothing publicly. He studiously avoided having his picture taken with Jackson; he did not attend the banquet and he made no secret to his friends of his belief that Jackson would not get far as a candidate. That this unfavorable attitude conflicted with the president's desire appeared to make no difference to Farley, which seemed to some the most significant thing of all. A few days ago when, in a period of relative calm, the situation was surveyed the more clear-headed of the Jackson managers discovered three things. First, that the New York Democratic machine is Farley's machine and not Mr. Roosevelt's. Second, that Farley had no idea of falling into line for Mr. Roosevelt's candidate. Third, that without Farley there wasn't a chance for Jackson.

WHEN THESE pregnant facts seeped into the minds of the managers, there was nothing to do but quit—and quit they did with great suddenness and considerable unconscious humor. The inspired journalistic spokesman announced—first, that this "brilliant, able and sincere" young man now realized he could not get the nomination because of the wicked machine politicians; second, that he never wanted to be governor anyhow; third, that his withdrawal was due to fear that the nomination might be forced on him—all three very novel notions, indeed. How these brilliant young men reconcile these slightly conflicting statements is not disclosed but it is safe to say that no one thought them more comic than Farley. He fairly shook the dog house. He had a right to. When they told Farley that Jackson was out, Farley is reported to have said, "He never was in."

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—In the movie poker game a pair beats a full house—to get a full house into the theaters.

That goes for writers, not for stars. The old movie custom of sending writers marching in platoons and regiments against a helpless film subject continues, not without many good pictures resulting. But little by little another idea is spreading. The work of special teams—one writer, one director—points to the wisdom of the newer practice.

The old mass literary attack has its uses, of course. A difficult subject with which many minds wrestle may not be conquered all at once, but in the wrestling each mind may leave behind a usable idea before retiring exhausted to the sidelines. "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" was undeniably a hit, and it was a product of so many writers' work that in the end there wasn't room on the credit list for all of them. The four who had done the most work got billing.

But in many cases, a story that has had the benefit of "treatments" by all the writers on the lot doesn't hit the production stage. Too many cooks, or maybe there wasn't any broth there to begin with.

* * *

Director-writer teams aren't exactly new to be sure. Not when Cecil B. DeMille and Jeanie MacPherson were knocking off scripts together back in the days when most scripts came from the cuff, and in 1933 Playwright Preston Sturges was a novelty sensation because he wrote a complete, final script of his own—"The Power and the Glory"—without even a director as collaborator.

But since Director Frank Capra and Writer Robert Riskin got together on films like "It Happened One Night," "Mr. Deeds," and "Lost Horizon," the scripting spotlight has been brighter on writer-director teams.

The man who's going to shoot the picture works directly with the man who's writing it—and the results speak from the screen.

Such a combination—John Ford and Dudley Nichols—turned out "The Informer," "The Lost Patrol," and "The Plough and the Stars"—which last-named was better than you saw it on the screen. Ford insists on editing his own pictures, or at least sitting in on the cutting. That one was "finished" after he'd left on a cruise — and he's still sore about it.

OHIO PIONEERS— Landing In the Wilderness 1787-1788

MARCH 18—A third type of boat has been added to the fleet which will carry today's pioneers to Marietta. This is a pirogue and is made by cutting a dugout canoe lengthwise and building in a wide six-foot bottom. The large flat boat is being caulked and the bottom of the second boat has been completed. One-inch planks are now being whipsawed to be used for cabin siding on the larger boats. Preparations for the water section of the trek are rapidly nearing completion. Motion picture photographers are again "on location" to add to the film story which they are making of this expedition.

Childish Wife Causes Difficulties

By VIRGINIA LEE

Bob S. is a young married man. He is 25 and his wife is 19, According to his story, her father disappeared some years ago, her mother and other relatives drink.

They have only been married one and one-half years, but they do a great deal of arguing. Then she goes home to her mother. They lived in some rooms in his home when they were first married, but she couldn't get along with his mother and brothers. Now they live near both mothers, and this young wife finds fault with her husband if he wants to see his mother and do things for her, but she wants to do things for and stop in to see her mother. She goes to her mother's for a week sometimes, and then comes back to her husband.

"I don't know what to do, so please print it in the paper so I can read it this week," he writes.

Well, of course I have not heard your wife's side of this business, but it seems to me that she will have to grow up or you never will be happy together. This childish arguing and running home to mother must stop before you can feel secure in your home

It may be that you never will be happy together, but I hope this is not so. It is always well to think about a person's family background and history before you marry them. Hers was not very good. She has not inherited the sort of traits that make for happiness in marriage, I am afraid. If she realizes what she has to fight in herself and is willing to try, however, she can overcome her tendencies, with your help.

The only thing I can suggest for you to do is to be patient, treat her with the greatest kindness and consideration, and hope that she will grow more sensible and easier to live with as she grows older.

CABBAGE SALAD—Chop cabbage fine, add same amount of celery diced and whites of one or two hard boiled eggs. Mash the egg yolks fine, and mix to smooth paste with little vinegar and mustard. Mix with celery, cabbage and egg whites. When ready to serve mix cream dressing with mixture.

Meats Simmered

For pot roasts, stews and any meats cooked in water, low temperature in cooking holds true The meat will be more tender and juicy if the water is never allowed to boil A simmering temperature, the temperature at which small bubbles form underneath the surface but never reach the surface, is best for meats cooked in water. "The Authority on Authorities"

NO TIME TO DOUBLE

WHEN YOU hold a strong two-suiter, it is not a time to make informative doubles. Better by far, bid one of your suits so that on a later turn you can complete the story to your partner by showing your other suit. If you don't show a suit on your first chance, but double instead, you may not know what to do on the next round. Doubles are usually most valuable on hands which can support any of three suits safely, play at no trump or offer one fine suit bid if your partner answers with misfits.

(Dealer North Both sides vulnerable)

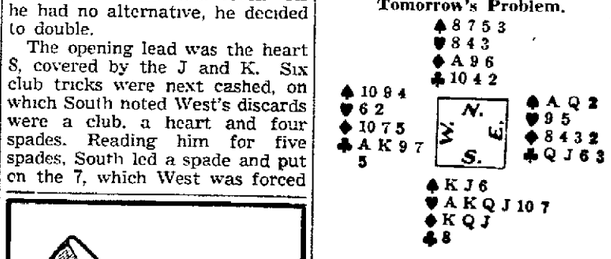

South made a third hand bid here of 1-Club, which West doubled. North put in a bid of 3-Clubs, East passed and South bid 3-No Trump. West now realized the mistake he had made in not showing one suit on the first round, as he feared showing either suit at the four level. As he had no alternative, he decided to double.

The opening lead was the heart 8, covered by the J and K. Six club tricks were next cashed, on which South noted West's discards were a club, a heart and four spades. Reading him for five spades, South led a spade and put on the 7, which West was forced to win with the A West then played his three high hearts and led the diamond K This was won with the A in dummy and the spade 8 played to the K. Nine tricks were cashed, with the loss of three hearts and one spade.

Corect bidding by West would have landed his side in four hearts or four spades, either of which could have been made.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable)

With the club K cashed and followed by the A, how should South plan the play to make 5-Hearts?

Twenty short minutes a day will keep a normal skin feeling fine and looking young. But it has to be given that break every day. A lost day is not regained by twice as much effort afterward.

On arising try the cold water treatment. It's refreshing to both skin and spirit. Dip a pad of absorbent cotton into cold water and bathe your face, paying especial attention to your neck and throat—both of which are apt to be forgotten. Dry your skin by patting it dry, not by rubbing. Then apply a little of your favorite cream or oil. Smooth it in gently, following the contour of your face with the tips of your fingers. Be sure to follow those little lines around your mouth and eyes. After removing the cream you are ready for your astringent.

A piece of ice in a saucer of water is one of Nature's cheapest and best astringents. If you want something that has a little more authority, then add some witch hazel. Put the astringent on absorbent cotton and pat it all over your face and neck. After this you are ready for your makeup and the day's work.

By nightfall your face has had a long, hard day of exposure. It has collected particles of dirt and dust, and the skin must be cleansed of all secretions and of makeup. Otherwise you will find enlarged pores, blackheads, and eruptions complicating your life So the evening treatment is terribly important.

Use Soap and Water.

Don't be afraid of soap and water. Washing your face helps to keep the skin new. Have the water warm, about blood temperature. Work up a good lather on your face cloth. Rub this on with upward and outward motions Rinse your face with warm water. Next apply your cream and rub it into the skin with the tips of your fingers. Using the forefingers, follow the contour of your face, again with the upward stroke Smooth from your chin around the mouth, up around your nose, under your eyes and around the temples Then, press your fingers above the nose and smooth above the eye, working out This is soothing and relaxing and will help you go to sleep.

If your face is lined or thin, rub olive oil, or a good lubricating cream into the skin, following the lines of your face. Use it generously under your eyes, and in any deep wrinkles or hollows of your face. Let it stay on over night, if you wish to get the full benefit.

About once a week it's a good idea to take a little extra time out and try a face mask. Here's a little dandy that will be a real pick-up. Mix the whole of a fresh egg with a tablespoon of olive oil. Beat them together until it is quite substantial. Smooth the mixture over your face and lie down, and don't smile, laugh or talk. Leave the mask on for about half an hour. Remove it with tepid water. This will really pull your face together and you will see a lovelier and a younger girl when you look in the mirror.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

I looked at Mary in stark astonishment as she asked me what kind of voice the drunken woman had who had called for Dicky on the telephone the night before, or so I had understood her, although the manager had said the woman was calling for her husband, Mr. Glavan. But I could not forget that she had demanded "Dicky" Graham—or Glavan. Surely it was stretching the arm of coincidence a long way to suppose that there were two men called "Dicky" with such similar surnames in the same hotel.

"No, it was not squeaky," I told her. "On the contrary, it was of low register, coarse, raucous and blatant."

Mary nodded as if something had clicked inside her brain, then caught herself up palpably.

"What a lot of adjectives!" she said admiringly. "No wonder Uncle Dicky says you know a lot of words But a truce to that. You know I love you and would be cut into little pieces for you, don't you, my dearest of aunts?"

Startled by Query.

"You've given me plenty of proof of your devotion," I told her warmly

"Then I know you'll forgive me, and not think I'm just asking this because I'm a fresh brat—but—did you believe that hotel manager's yarn about there being a Mr. Glavan in the hotel?"

I stiffened, startled and a bit resentful at her query, a resentment which I smothered the next instant, for I knew the affection and fierce loyalty to me that was prompting the interrogation.

"It didn't sound very plausible," I stammered. "but it was better than thunking—"

My voice trailed off into nothingness, and Mary nodded sapiently.

"I know," she said, "but I don't think you need to worry, even if the woman were calling Uncle Dicky. She's probably some model that didn't suit Uncle Dicky so he isn't giving her work any more, or something like that Some of those dames are fierce when they get mad and stewed. They'd call up the president or the chief justice and give him merry hell."

Curiously enough, her explanation, lame as it was, made me feel much kindlier toward my husband than had the manager's ingenious yarn. But there was something about Mary's theory which puzzled me. It was as if she had some knowledge which I did not possess. Was it possible that she knew of some model who was annoying Dicky?

"I'll bet you'll find that's the right answer," Mary went on. "At any rate the manager's yarn is out. I checked up on that this morning, early"

I felt as if my lower jaw had dropped to my waistline.

"You—what?" I stammered

"I checked up on the manager's very ingenious little story," she repeated blithly. "Really, he isn't very smart, or he figures women haven't any brains But while we were having breakfast this morning, I pumped the waiter casually."

"Not before Miss Whitlock!" I gasped, horrified

She threw me a glance of flaming reproach

Not So Dumb.

"Do you think I'm as dumb as that?" she said. "No, I grabbed him when he came up to take the order while Miss Whitlock was in the bathroom. And would Katie have been envious of me! I think I beat her hands down as a detec-atuff."

"I hope the man didn't have any idea of why you were asking," I worried.

"You don't think your little Mary has any gray matter at all, do you?" she reproved me "You should have heard me spar! I asked him if he'd been here long, and he said ever since the hotel opened. He looked it, too. Then I said we had heard that an old acquaintance of ours named Glavan lived in the hotel, and he said I must be mistaken, that he never had heard of anybody of that name staying here"

Non-Driving Wife Flatters Man's Ego

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

Head, Dept Parent Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Some dominating husbands sentence their wives to be back-seat drivers. Many a wife and mother must stay at home or go away by bus or trolley car or wait till her husband comes for her.

Of course, a few mothers, like a few fathers, are unfit to handle a car, but usually the husband, being badly biased, is a very poor judge of the matter

Long have I been interested in the psychology of the husband who won't let his wife learn to drive a car, acting toward her as if she were ten or twelve He will insist that she is just too nervous. Why, she would kill the whole family and wreck the car! And then the damage she might do to others!

Generally his conscious motives are above reproach But, often, underneath lurk very curious non-conscious motives If she were to drive the car he might be inconvenienced occasionally, she might want to use the car at the same time he would want to use it elsewhere You see, it also gives him a sense of superiority and self-exaltation to feel that only he can be entrusted with the car, or that only he possesses poise enough to be safe at the wheel. And when his wife shouts or screams warning as he drives, she renders him all the more sure that she should not drive. He may succeed, indeed, at convincing her that she never should attempt to drive.

But most wives who are very nervous when the husband drives would surpass in poise, once they really learned to drive themselves.

Now I do not desire to make wives and mothers who don't drive less happy. I want first to help them see that it is not from deliberate meanness the husband has kept them from driving. therefore that they should be tolerant toward his frailties. Secondly, I hope a few offending husbands might read this. For good family comradeship, the mother should learn to drive the car and should have a reasonable share in its use.

To mothers who would like to learn to drive. Let me recommend that you employ some competent stranger to teach you to drive with his or her car. Then some morning, while your husband finishes his breakfast, nonchalantly run his car out of the garage for him. Later, when the car is available, go somewhere alone in it. But be very sure that the first demonstration of your driving which your husband sees is successful. And good luck.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, March 19.

A RESTLESS, disturbed and disintegrating day is foretold by the prevailing planetary forces. However, drastic upheavals and changes may ultimately pave the way for putting affairs on a sound and stable basis, or for future rewards of steadfastness, diligence and hard work.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may face a rather devastating year, with upheaval, drastic changes, disputes, stress and a generally disturbed condition. This however, seems preliminary to getting things on some sort of sound foundation so that industry, application and faithful service may eventually reap its just rewards.

A child born on this day, although fundamentally sound and dependable, may be very temperamental, as well as restless, unsettled and erratic. Early training and discipline may direct fine talents and energies into constructive channels.
